ESTABLISHED 1846. NEWPORT, R. I., FRIDAY, APRIL 16, 1909.—TEN PAGES. PRICE TWO CENTS.

WHO KNOWS?

Can't prove it by the ice man, he "don't know a thing about the price of ice," but he looks wise when he says it and remarks that he don't see where all the ice is coming from this season, which means that the ice price is sure to make a high record mark.

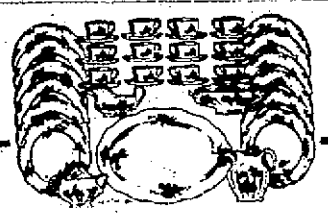

THE RANNEY REFRIGERATOR

IS AN ICE SAVER. It is built of selected oak, with 3-inch walls thoroughly insulated and lined with galvanized steel. There's not a particle of wood inside to absorb moisture and smell and the whole inside can be easily removed for cleaning. It is, without question, the most carefully constructed refrigerator on the market and 15 years handling has proven to us that it will do beter work with less ice consumption than any other.

Our combined order this season was 3 solid car loads—that's why we can start the price at less than you'd pay ordinarily for a cheap built soft wood box.

MOSLEM BIGOTRY BREAKS OUT ANEW

Two American Missionaries Reported Killed.

Government Trys to Protect Foreigners at Adana.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 16.—Information received here today from Adana, in Asiatic Turkey declares that two American missionaries have been killed in the anti-Armenian outbreak at that place.

The Moslem fanaticism against the Christians of Adana appears to have broken out afresh. The Moslem attacks recommenced yesterday and continued throughout the night. Large numbers of Christians are said to have been killed. One report says that 60 Armenians have lost their lives and that many houses have been looted and burned.

There is no confirmation of the death of the two American missionaries. Their names are not given in the despatch received here. The British vice consul at Mersina has proceeded to Adana. The first news of this anti-Christian outbreak said the scene was Mersina, but this was erroneous. The trouble occurred at Adana, which is about 30 miles inland from Mersina. Mersina is on the Mediterranean. The early reports were declared to have been exagerated and messages received here yesterday evening said that only 10 Armenians had been killed, that martial law had been proclaimed at Adana, and that re-inforcements of troops were being sent in from Beirut. This latest intelligence refers to disorders that took place after the situation was supposed to have quieted down.

Ambassador Leishman has had no direct news of the reported killing of the two American missionaries. He has instructed American Vice Consul at Mersina, John Debbas, to proceed to Adana and report on the situation. Railroad communication between Mersina and Adana appears to be interrupted. The Bible House is also without direct information.

The missionaries of the district are at present at Adana for the regular district meeting. They are Mr. and Mrs. William Chambers, the Misses Webb, Miss Wallis and Miss Borel. Mr. Christy is at Tarsus.

The government has given assurance that it is going its best to restore order at Adana to protect foreigners. Additional troops are being sent in.

Adana is a station of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, an out-station of the synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church in North America, and a Bible depot and sub-agency of the American Bible Society. It is a city of 45,000 people and is the seat of government of the province of the same name. The people are mostly Mohammedans but there are a considerable number of Christian Armenians and a small Greek community there.

The American missionaries at Adana, under the control of the American board of foreign missions are the Rev. William Chambers, and wife and the Misses Webb, two sisters.

ADANA IN FLAMES.

Horrible Massacres Reports in Streets of the City.

BERLIN, April 16.—A despatch received today at Mersina from Adana says that city has been aflame since last Wednesday evening and that horrible massacres are being carried out on the streets. This information was conveyed to Berlin in a private cablegram from Mersina.

TROOPS POWERLESS.

Soldiers Joining in the Pillage of the City of Adana.

MERSINA, Asiatic Turkey, April 16.—The massacre of Armenians at Adana continues. The troops are powerless to control the situation and some of the soldiers are joining in the pillage of the city. This information was received here by telegraph from Adana this afternoon.

CAUSED BY PERSONAL MATTERS.

Turkish Ambassador Has No Confirmation of Report of Trouble.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The Turkish ambassador called at the State Department, today, and during a long interview with Assistant Secretary Wilson gave assurances that no consideration of race or religion had entered into the troubles in Constantinople and elsewhere in Turkey. His despatches had satisfied him that personal matters rather than any political questions were responsible for the unrest in his country. Advices from Ambassador Leishman state that in the outlying districts there is still fear of further trouble. He has no confirmation of the report that two Americans were killed at Adana.

The State Department has received no official information concerning the reported massacres at Adana. The department has taken no unusual action looking to the safety of missionaries, but diplomatic representatives are ready to act in any emergency.

ONE MISSIONARY AT ADANA.

American Board Knows Only of William Chambers 30 Years There.

BOSTON, April 16.—So far as the American board of commissioners for foreign missions have any knowledge, the only American missionary at Adana is William M. Chambers, who has been in that field for more than 30 years. Mr. Chambers's family live with him at his mission station. There are also in the city several American women who teach in a woman's college conducted by the American board. At the headquarters of the American board in this city, it was said today that the Americans reported killed in the anti-Armenian outbreaks, probably were not connected with the board, inasmuch as the officers there undoubtedly would have been advised of the deaths had any of the board's missionaries been victims. The American Baptist Missionary Union has no missionaries at

FOR VIOLATIONS OF REVENUE LAWS.

Cudahy Packing Company Indicted on 737 Counts.

Sold Colored Oleomargarine Under Wrong Tax.

TOPEKA, Kas., April 16.—Indictments were returned here today by the federal grand jury against the Cudahy Packing Company of Kansas City, Kas., on 737 counts on a charge of defrauding the government by violations of the internal revenue laws. The charge is that the company has defrauded the government of over $80,000 in revenues on oleomargarine. The minimum penalty on each of the 737 counts is $1,000.

The revenue law provides that each pound of uncolored oleomargarine must bear a revenue stamp of a quarter of a cent, but that to each pound to which coloring matter has been added to give it the appearance of butter a ten cent revenue stamp must be attached. It is charged in the indictments that the Cudahy Packing Company has sold the colored product under the quarter of a cent tax. Government officials assert that the company has succeeded in monopolizing the oleomargarine market by selling the colored product and paying the tax on the basis of uncolored.

District Attorney Bone will bring a civil action in the federal court against the company, to have the plant and machinery used in the manufacture of oleomargarine confiscated. The oleomargarine manufacturing plant is connected with the Cudahy packing establishment in Kansas City, Kas.

SAYS STORY IS FAKE.

Cudahy Denies Bills Against Packing Company for Violating Laws.

OMAHA, Neb., April 16.—"There are no such indictments. The story is a fake," declared E. A. Cudahy to The Associated Press, today, when his attention was called to the story from Topeka alleging that the federal grand jury had found true bills against the Cudahy Packing Company on charges of violating the internal revenue laws. With this sweeping denial Mr. Cudahy dismissed the matter.

SUBSTITUTE FOR THE LOBSTER ACT.

Drawn in the Interest of the Greek Fishermen.

Restricts Licenses to Citizens and Intended Citizens.

(Special despatch to the News.)

PROVIDENCE, April 16.—The senate had two wordy fights today, in both of which Newport figured and is interested, whatever may be the final result. The first was the lobster bill. In place of the one introduced by Senator Anthony of Portsmouth a substitute was offered by Senator Sanborn of Newport, which it is said was drawn by Mr. Nolan of Newport, who appeared at the hearing in the interests of the Greek fishermen. The substitute bill was passed by the senate and will now go to the house on its passage.

The bill is framed, it is represented, to shut out fishermen from other states and prevent persons not citizens or who will not be citizens from fishing for lobsters in the state waters. It requires that all lobster fishermen shall secure licenses from the Shell Fish Commission, that licenses shall be issued to natives or residents of the state and to those who have taken out their first papers for naturalization within a year, the cost of the licenses to be $5 for residents of the state and $10 for those who have taken out their papers.

Senator Clarke of Jamestown opposed the substitute and asked that the original bill be passed. He said the people of Newport and other places where these fishermen are known say the foreigners live and spend all their time in their boats, are no good to the communities because of this, and have the advantage over those who require some home life. They can place five traps to the Americans one and the substitute allows greater privileges to the foreigner than to our own citizens.

The discussion was a long one, but when it came to a vote the substitute had but one vote against it, and that Senator Clarke's.

Senator Brown of Middletown introduced a bill to regulate the sale of agricultural seed, for the purpose of preventing fraud. Referred to the committee on agriculture.

Senator Arnold moved that the so-called child labor law be taken from the hands of the committee on special legislation. He said he understood, when the bill was sent to this committee that it was with the purpose of killing it. Senator Latham of Cranston seconded the motion and said some things about the manner in which bills are referred to committees. Senator McKenna also made remarks about the methods to committees in usurping the powers of the senate by pigeonholing bills and preventing the senate from voting on them.

Chairman Martin of the committees excused the action of the committee by saying that when it received the bill it could not report it, because it could not have it printed, as the finance committee had held up the printing. If the bill could be printed for distribution, the committee would report on it.

Senator Sanborn moved that the bill be printed, which was voted, and Senator Martin announced that his committee would report the bill in some form before the end of the session.

This bill, while looked upon as principally affecting the industrial centres, applies in many ways to places like Newport, for it particularly specifies department stores and establishments where youth are employed. That every child who is given employment shall be able to read and write the English language is probably one of the lesser requirements so far as Newport is concerned, but as to hours and conditions of labor the bill in its present form would make material changes in almost any place where youth are now employed, as it is intended for the protection of the child while it is growing, in more ways than one.

The finance committee recommended an appropriation of $35,000 for the maintenance of the State House. Passed.

Senator Sayles of Burrillville introduced an act making it an offence for a person to erect a spite fence. Referred to the judiciary committee.

The house held a short session. In the early part of the day it passed two resolutions reported back by the finance committee, one making an appropriation for the State Board of Health for the purpose of investigation and control of tuberculosis in man, and the other for the investigation of the causes and prevention of diphtheria. The committee recommended the passage of substitutes for the original acts, making the appropriation for the investigation of tuberculosis $3,500 and that for diphtheria $3,600. The substitutes were passed.

The house took a recess until 1:30 o'clock, or until after the senate had passed the act authorizing the town of Cranston to issue bonds, and the act was passed in concurrence.

The house judiciary committee is this afternoon holding a hearing on the usury bill introduced by Representative Cutler of Providence, limiting the amount of interest to be charged for money loaned at 24 per cent a year. Opponents of the measure appeared in considerable numbers before the committee.

COURT OPINION DESIRED.

Tangle Over Amendment Re-Districting the State.

PROVIDENCE, April 16.—A queer tangle developed this afternoon over one of the so-called dual constitutional amendments, which would re-district the state and change the representation in the house of representatives from 72 to 100 members. The act provides that the amendment shall go into effect upon adoption. Therefore tch supposition is that if it should be adopted by the people at the polls next November it would necessarily go into effect at once. The state would not have been re-districted and the 72 representatives from the cities and towns would already have been elected. It has passed the senate, therefore it is too late at this time for an amendment to be made to the measure.

The tangle was discussed this afternoon by the house committee on special legislation, which it was understood would ask for a private opinion from the supreme court.

This Morning's News.

SMALL OPERATORS LOSE ALL.

"King" Patten Buys Fiercely to Stay the Wheat Slump.

CHICAGO, April 15.—While bakers all over the country were considering cutting down the size of their loaves and increasing the price of bread, tumult raged today in the wheat pit of the Board of Trade, wiping out fortunes, until James A. Patten, the "wheat king," asserted his sway and in a desperate and successful effort to save the situation after a sudden drop of 4¾ cents in July wheat, bought 3,000,000 bushels in the last 15 minutes of trading.

In the terrific battle it was Patten against the field, and the final gong showed that Patten was apparently as mighty as ever.

At the opening of the Board of Trade July wheat, which apparently without a hitch had been advanced in the previous day's trading to a new high level, suddenly collapsed, carrying with it in the wink of an eye the "pyramided" fortunes of many small speculators who had already written themselves down as men beyond the reach of want.

"Patten's end is in sight," was the word that passed around, but the resources of the "wheat king" had not been correctly gauged. Hurrying to the Board of Trade in the midst of the crisis, when the mighty gamble on the size of the loaf for the great masses was at stake, he personally plunged into the fray, took the floor and directed his deals by word of mouth.

His purchases and those of his followers, together with the profit-taking of shorts who lost no time in obtaining the fruits of their hearish daring, caused a reaction of over a cent all along the line. But before this occurred the board of many a small speculator had vanished.

Patten displayed the energy of a dozen men during the final 15 minutes of the day's trading, when the success of his great coup trembled in the balance, and his combined transactions reached 3,000,000 bushels.

Into the corridor of the Western Union building, in which the Hartlett-Patten offices are located, there came the sound of high-pitched, nervous and excited voices as the clerks at the telephones executed their orders, and the burden of the messages to other clerks in the pit was "buy!" "buy!" "buy!"

Far from the exciting strife of the board, in hundreds of bakeries, there was a different, although related scene. Flour had risen, and the bakers, with wrinkled brows, were trying to find out where their profits were coming from, unless the price of bread could be raised. According to one of the largest bakers in the city the price of flour has doubled in the last six years; lard has done likewise, milk has advanced 33 1-3 per cent, delivery charges have doubled, and yet the price of bread remains the same.

Three years ago, when flour prices were on a rampage, many bakers saved their profits by reducing the weight of their loaves and the quality of the flour used. But it is said there is no further extreme of economy to which they can go, and meanwhile they allege that their net earnings are nothing. So far, however, no concerted action has been taken with regard to the situation.

It was 15 or 20 minutes before closing time when the selling tornado hit the pit. Stop loss orders came out in a deluge and the bears, stirred by a five-cent decline at Winnipeg, it was said, on re-selling by exporters, attacked the market with great spirit.

July tumbled half a cent at a time to $1 14½, an extreme loss of 4¾ cents; May, in larger jumps, dropped to $1.26, and September, an undisputed new crop month, which had attained $1 05¾, declined to $1 05¾.

Here the Patten purchases made their influence felt, and the close of the session found July at $1 15 @ 1 15¼. May at $1 27½ @ 1 27⅝ and September at $1 06⅛.

In contrast with these prices those of a year ago are of interest. During April a year ago May wheat sold at an average of 95 cents and July around 85 cents.

The first sale of wheat for delivery in May of this year was made here June 23 last, at 89¾ cents. Whether it went to Mr. Paten is not of public record, but he was among the earlier purchasers. Since then the price has risen nearly 30 cents.

This, however, does not serve to indicate the supposed profits of Mr. Patten and his associates. No estimate worth considering can be made, for even were details of their operations known it is safe to say the same capital has gone into the July deal, the outcome of which, of course, cannot be predicted.

COMING TO THIS COUNTRY.

Silk Industries of Southern France Will Transfer to United States.

NEW YORK, April 15.—A combination of silk industries in southern France representing $10,000,000 of capital will transfer their plants to this country, according to a statement made today by Jean Dupian, head of a large silk dye works at Hazelton, Pa. Mr. Dupian, accompanied by D. A. Gillett a French silk manufacturer, who has been investigating conditions in this country, sailed for Havre on the steamer La Provence today.

"I was commissioned a long time ago," said Mr. Dupian, "to look into conditions in the silk trade in this country, with the object of ascertaining for French silk manufacturers whether it would be advantageous for them to transfer their plants to this country, and I have been working on the problem now for three years. Mr. Gillett represents a combination of silk industries of southern France, which takes in weaving, dying and other silk establishments and has plants that are worth $10,000,000. I made a report to him recently that it would be advisable that the French establishments be transferred to this country and as a result the French industries will locate here. The work of transferring the plants will be done gradually, but before many years the big French property will have reached this country and be working in cooperation with silk industries already here."

Mr. Dupian said already a co-operation had been effected with one large silk dyeing establishment in Paterson, N. J., and that one of the largest banking institutions of French origin was acting as the financial bankers of the transfer. He said the principal reason for the transfer was the tariff imposed, which has meant a very great lessening of the profits of the French silk manufacturers, who find the American market the largest buyers of their products.

TURKISH COMMANDER LYNCHED.

Marines Kill Officer Who Trained Guns on the Palace.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 15.—A [illegible] disorders, less serious than some of those which had preceded them, but still such as to excite the fears of the diplomats.

The most determined demonstration of the day was made by marines who manifested their detestation of the new minister of marine, Vice Admiral Adjemin Pasha. The marines gathered in force and seized and conveyed to the royal compartments Arif Bey, commander of battleship Asar-i-Tewfika member of the committee of union and progress, who ordered the guns of his ship trained on the Yildiz Kiosk when the rising was at its height, with the intention of supporting the committee. On arriving at the Yildiz Kiosk the men put to death Arif Bey, notwithstanding the efforts of the Palace Guard to save him.

The first news from Mersina was, happily, exaggerated. Early advices stated that a massacre of Armenians was in progress at that place, which is a seaport of Asia Minor on the Mediterranean. The disturbance in reality occurred at Adana, which is about 36 miles from Mersina. Only 10 Armenians were killed. Martial law has been proclaimed there and reinforcements of troops are being dispatched from Beirut.

The report that Mahmoud Mukhtar Pasha has fled to Salonika has been confirmed. It is stated that Ahmed Riza, the former president of the chamber, has taken refuge in the French embassy and that Hussein Jahid, editor-in-chief of the Tanin, has fled abroad. There is no trace of the other members of the committee.

The number of casualties during the disturbances of the last few days has not been established, but it is alleged that many officers, disguised as privates, participated in the movement, tending to confirm the assertion that the mutiny was directed exclusively against those officers of the army who were members of the committee of union and progress.

A strange but significant session of the chamber was held today. It should be remembered that the Turkish Parliament contains a majority representing the "Young Turk" party, but only 188 members responded to the summons and this number was not sufficient to form a quorum. The entrance to the Parliament building presented an ordinary appearance. There was a crowd of spectators and the usual guard of Seloniki chasseurs, the same men as were concerned in Tuesday's mutiny. Dejection sat upon the faces of almost every deputy. The members anxiously consulted the foreign correspondents to ascertain the opinions held abroad.

The new president, Ismail Kemal Bey, proposed that the chamber hold a short secret session. This was stormy and it was finally voted unanimously that a proclamation be published broadcast through the empire to the effect that the house taken into consideration the claims of the Ottoman soldiers, accepts the resignation of the cabinet and grants amnesty, and, furthermore, that it had resolved to continue putting aside all spirit of political division and devoting its life to the welfare of the country. In addition the chamber agreed to issue assurances to the various constituencies that order would be restored and the constitution maintained.

Later the chamber resumed its public sitting for the formal election of a new president, but after further balloting the proceedings were postponed until Saturday, when there is little doubt Ismail Kemal, the soldiers' nominee, will be elected.

The whole attitude of the chamber today indicated its sense of defeat and lost influence. The Hodjas dominated the situation and spoke imperatively.

If there is no decision by the umpires, after the last race, there will be another race September 7.

F. MARION CRAWFORD'S WILL.

The will of F. Marion Crawford, the novelist, who died in Italy, has been filed with the surrogate in New York on behalf of Arthur Terry, brother of the testator, who is appointed his executor. The value of the estate was not indicated.

Mr. Crawford leaves $10,000 to his widow, Elizabeth G. Crawford, saying that she has been amply provided for by the will of her father, General Hiram Berdan. The residue of the estate is left in trust to his brother, to pay the income to his two sons and his two daughters, who live at Sorrento with their mother, until they reach the age of 25, when the principal is to be equally divided between them.

A TOY BANK THAT IS REAL.

Raleigh, N. C., has the smallest bank in the state, this country, or the world, for that matter. It is the Wake County Savings Bank, and was opened for business the first day of January, 1907. It was originally built as a hallway, but stairs were run to one side of it, and in the tiny room this left the bank was established. It has a front of seven and one-half feet. There is barely enough space above its front for the sign in letters of gold. Next to it is a national bank of usual size, and this makes the baby institution seem even smaller by comparison. Yet this little bank has been a success from the very start; has over six hundred depositors and its assets aggregate $150,000. It has never failed to pay dividends to its stockholders, and has also paid over $10,000 in interest to depositors.

The president is William W. Vass, whose father, of the same name, at the time of his death some years ago, was the oldest railway treasurer in the world, having begun his railway life in 1849, and he is one of the high officials of the Seaboard Air Line. The cashier of the bank is William R. Grimes, whose father was a noted Confederate major general, who surrendered at Appomattox. Within the little bank which is an object of very great curiosity to pass, there is a little safe and a narrow counter. Every inch of the small amount of space available is utilized.

TO FIGHT SAN JOSE SCALE.

Act for the Inspection of Nursery Stock Provides for a State Entomologist.

The act passed by the senate providing for the inspection of nursery stock provides also for the appointment of a state entomologist. The bill as passed was approved by the State Board of Agriculture, the state entomologist and the agriculture and judiciary committees of the senate.

The act provides that the State Board of Agriculture shall appoint a state entomologist, whose duty it shall be to inspect orchards, fields and gardens where he suspects that the San Jose scale may be found. In case it is found, he may order the owner to spray his property, or take other steps for the protection of surrounding places. It also provides a fine for failure to obey the order, but no compromise for any expenses incurred by the owner of the property.

The second section provides for the inspection of nurseries, and makes it imperative for the state entomologist to inspect them at least once a year and give a certificate to the owners, providing that no pest is found. No certificate can be issued if a pest is found until the owner has overcome it. A fine of $25 to $100 is provided for violations of this section.

Further provisions make it imperative for agents, other than growers to secure a license to sell, give away or ship within the state any nursery stock; and such stock shipped must be properly tagged with official tags furnished by the state entomologist. Before a license can be secured, the names of the nurseries furnishing the stock must be filed with the State Board of Agriculture. Firms outside of the state must furnish a copy of their certificates and then tags will be furnished them. In case the stock is not tagged, it can be confiscated by the State Board of Agriculture.

Fines for failure to apply tags or for common carriers who transport the goods are provided for in the last sections of the act, these fines ranging from $10 to $100. An appeal from the decision of the state entomologist to the Board of Agriculture is also provided by the act.

RECIPES WITH ODD NAMES.

Delicious Oldtime Dishes with Most Unappetizing Titles.

From the immemorial there has been a tendency to give eccentric names to some of the most popular culinary triumphs. Some of these names are pretty, some quite the reverse. "Cupid's wells," for instance, is the name of a dainty sweetmeat, is a charming appellation; but what perverse fancy fastened the phrase "toad in a hole" upon a time-honored English recipe for a savory meat pie? That, pretty or ugly, many of these names have become classics, as much a part of the dishes to which they are attached as are the ingredients.

The famous Dr. Kitchener, who wrote a "classic" cookbook years ago, must be awarded the palm for cleverness in collecting recipes with quaint names. "Cat in gely" is one of them, and others are "rockoast," "wowwow sauce" and "dogsup," which is a very strong catsup. It would be interesting to know what "cat in gely" is, but Dr. Kitchener does not give the recipe, merely stating that it was a favorite mediaeval dish.

"Devils" fairly swarm in Dr. Kitchener's book, but most of them differ little from the devilled dishes of today. Here is his recipe for "broiled devils:"

"Take the rump, legs, gizzard, etc., of a dressed turkey, capon or goose, or the kidneys of mutton or veal. Score the meat, and season lightly with salt and pepper; broil over a very hot fire, and send to the table with a rich sauce flavored with curry or wine."

All sorts of quaint names have been bestowed upon cakes, fancy breads and sweetmeats. "Brownies," "love cakes," "doughnuts," "hermits," "kisses," "snowballs," "wasps' nests," "pinwheels," "rosettes," "love knots," "bachelors' buttons" and "queen tidbits" are some of them. "Wasps' nests" is the old German name for the dainties known to New Yorkers as "pinwheels" and sometimes "cinnamon buns." To make these a coffee cake dough is rolled very thin and sprinkled with raisins, currants, cinnamon and sugar. Then it is rolled up like round jelly cake and cut into slices, and the slices sprinkled with minced almonds, rubbed with plenty of butter and baked.

"King Henry's shoestrings" is the queer name of a delicious sweetmeat—lemon cakes, filled with minced almonds, dusted with powdered sugar, and cut in strips.

"Devil's gruel" and "demon cake" are old names for black cake with chocolate in it, so called, probably, because "angels' food" has always been the name for certain kinds of white cake.

"Maids of honor" are English cheese cakes—the recipe said to have been invented by one of Queen Elizabeth's maids of honor. Some writers even say that the great queen herself originated it. However it may be, these dainty cakes are still made and eaten in certain towns of England. "Nuns" are a sort of sweet cake made out of puff paste and jam. Cut a thin round of paste, lay a spoonful of jam on it, cover it with another round of paste, moisten the edges and pinch them together, and fry in deep fat. Drain and roll in powdered sugar. "Cupid's wells," a sweetmeat invented by Francatelli, Queen Victoria's famous old pastry cook, are somewhat like "nuns," only they are baked.

Inventors of dishes seem to have a fondness for the word "snow," which has been bestowed upon every imaginable kind of white dessert. "Snow eggs" is another name for floating island. "Alpine baskets" are a Swiss dainty, easily made—just a shell or a little cake hollowed out, filled with whipped cream, with a strawberry on top.

Other queer names for sweetmeats are "birds' nests," "porcupines," "hedgehogs," "wind bags," "monkey pudding," "dog in the blanket." Monkey pudding is nothing more or less than bread pudding flavored with cinnamon and raisins. "Dog in the blanket" is a fruit rolypoly, steamed. "Angels on horseback" is a famous old recipe; some authorities say it is of English, others of German origin. The "angels" are like "pigs in blankets"—oysters wrapped in thin slices of bacon and served on toast, garnished with lemon.

In the line of stews and other meat dishes are several famous old classics with funny names. "Star-gazy pie" is one of Cromwell's old recipes. The ingredients are a fresh mackerel, some thin slices of bacon, some parsley, thyme, tarragon vinegar, sweet marjoram, bay leaves, bread crumbs and the yolks of four eggs. Clean the fish, bake it, season with the herbs and place in a buttered dish in layers with the bread crumbs. Moisten with the egg yolks and two tablespoonfuls of the vinegar, cover with a layer of bacon, spread a thin layer of pie crust over all, and bake two hours.

PORTSMOUTH.

Annual Election of St. Mary's Guild and Roll-Call at the Christian Church.

[Regular Correspondence of the News.]

The annual meeting of St. Mary's Guild was held at Miss Kate Pagnin's, with 15 members present. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows:

Director—Mr. Herbert Chase.
Directress and Treasurer—Mrs. William R. Hunter.
Assistant to Directress—Mrs. Herbert Chase.
Secretary—Mrs. William G. Albro.
Committee of Three—Mrs. John E. Manchester, Mrs. Francis P. Conway, Mrs. N. Horace Peckham.

Committees were appointed to attend to the details of the supper and sale to be held at Mrs. Bradford Norman's. Four new names were added to the roll of membership.

Wednesday evening, the time designated for the roll-call of the Christian Church, proved so stormy that only a few besides those who had the matter in charge were present. These, about a number, spent an enjoyable evening. Refreshments were served and Miss Carrie D. Anthony sang several solos. The roll-call was postponed until Thursday evening, when, although there were several social gatherings, about 70 members and guests joined a social hour before the call. After a bountiful serving of sandwiches, cake and coffee, in the vestry the company adjourned to the audience room where the following program was observed, all the songs being accompanied by Miss Helen W. Sisson on the organ and Miss Ella Zenas, violin.

Song, "Marching to Zion;" Scripture reading and prayer by the pastor, Rev. Oswald C. Loucks; singing, "Oh, What a Charm;" in the absence of the secretary, Mr. Elbert A. Sisson, Miss Etta M. Sherman called the roll of 60 members, to which 20 responded, either by brief remarks or passages of Scripture. A number of those present the evening before being unable to attend the present time. One member, 88 years of age, at a Scripture text, "Happy Days" was sung and the roll-call ended by the singing of "When the Roll is Called up Yonder."

Three new members were then given the right hand of fellowship by the pastor—Mr. and Mrs. Peleg Smith and Mr. Ray Borden—each being presented with a Bible, the only creed the Christian Church has. Rev. Mr. Loucks made a short address, after which Mrs. Warren R. Sherman and Mrs. Charles Grinnell sang "Will there be any stars in our crown?" The closing song was "Blest be the The That Binds," followed by the benediction.

The Easter decorations of lilies, begonias, primroses, rubber plants and ferns had been left in the church, one of the ferns being one of the largest and most beautiful specimens of its kind.

Mr. Curtis Briggs Tallman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Tallman, was married to Miss Ethel Cameron Peterson of West Barrington, in Taunton, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. George Ripley, April 4, by Rev. F. L. Brooks of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Mr. and Mrs. Tallman will reside for the summer with his parents at "Cozy Corner," at the junction of East Main and Turnpike roads. Mr. Tallman is employed at the Torpedo Station.

Mrs. Frank L. Tallman of Portsmouth, president of Lawton-Warren Relief Corps, Newport, was guest of Mrs. Ciara Lake, department president, at the meeting in Bristol, Wednesday of the Bristol County Association of the corps. Mrs. Lake and Mrs. Tallman were made honorary members.

The cow injured on the Newport & Providence road April 6 lingered until Thursday, when her recovery being hopeless, she was chloroformed.

Mr. Charles W. Faulkner of New Bedford, formerly of this town, has been in town, visiting relatives and friends.

Dr. Francis P. Conway has been entertaining his brother-in-law, Mr. William McCray of Northampton, Mass.

"The Guild of St. Mary's Parish" for the purpose of assisting the rector, wardens and vestry in all parish work, has been incorporated under the laws of the state, with Herbert Chase, Ruth Manchester, Mary P. Manchester, Rowena Peckham and Susan Manchester named as the incorporators.

PERSONALS

....It has been decided that Harvey W. Scott, the veteran editor of the Portland Oregonian, will be appointed ambassador to Mexico, to succeed David E. Thompson of Nebraska.

...."Uncle Tom" Warren, said to be the oldest whaleman in the world, celebrated his ninety-first birthday at his home in Southampton recently. He is hale and hearty and yearns for the good old days when Sag Harbor was one of the leading whale fishery ports of the world.

....Boston musical societies and charities are beneficiaries under the will of Benjamin J. Lang. After making a number of specific bequests of personal property, the testator leaves $1,000 each to the Handel and Haydn Society, Cecilia Society and the Apollo Club. The Home for Incurables receives a similar amount, and the Oliver Ditson Society for the Aid of Poor Musicians $500.

....The engagement of Mme. Lillian Nordica to George W. Young, millionaire president of the Windsor Trust Company, was formally announced by the diva at a dinner given in New York Thursday by her in honor of a number of friends. The names of Mme. Nordica and Mr. Young have been linked together in gossip often since Mr. Young's wife secured a divorce from him, and about a year ago, when these reports were in circulation, both Mme. Nordica and Mr. Young denied them, stating that they were merely good friends.

....As the result of the finding of deeds 250 years old, while making alterations in William C. Engle's summer home, at Bridgeton, Long Island, additional light may be shed on the history of Mrs. Russell Sage's ancestors, the Pierson family. One of the deeds found was dated 1717 and signed by Josiah Pierson, a member of the family from which Mrs. Sage is descended. It conveys to Theophilus Pierson the property now owned by Mr. Engle. The papers were found in an old homespun cloth bag, which was deposited between the rafters under the attic floor. This crevice was probably used as a safety vault by the Piersons in the days when the deeds were drawn.

A FOURTH OF JULY OPPORTUNITY.

According to the present program, the state troops will go into camp this year the first week in July, which probably means that Sunday, July 4, they will leave their armories and go to the forts where they are to do duty for the week. The celebration of the Fourth this year will naturally come on Monday, and on this occasion there will be concentrated at this end of the state more than 1,500 regulars and National Guardsmen. The question arises whether these troops are to parade on the nation's birthday as is customary, or whether they will leave the reservations. If they are to parade on the one parading day of the year, Newport will naturally be the place, and with a procession by them and the fact that the day is a general holiday elsewhere there is an opportunity to make the city such a drawing magnet on that day that it will be over-run with strangers.

"THE SULTAN AND THE KORAN".

In regard to the news from Constantinople, the only remarkable thing is that a revolt against the liberal movement has not occurred sooner. This movement has now been in operation nine months and while there have been some disorders this is the first serious outbreak. The liberal movement was backed by the army, or by certain army corps, but the army is intensely Moslem, and that the fanatical Moslem element, civil and military, has made so little resistance to a political revolution which put the Christian subjects of the Sultan on the same level as the Moslem is the most astonishing thing in the whole Turkish revolution.

Few persons supposed the revolution which occurred peacefully July 24 last would never be resisted. All observers have been watching closely for the reaction, and, this reaction seems to be limited. It is much too soon to predict the revival of the old regime. The immediate occasion for this outbreak of the Constantinople garrison—that is, of a small part of it—appears to have been an indiscreet order from some of the officers to their men that they must obey all orders to fire, even if it were to fire on their co-religionists. Moslems have fought with Moslems age after age. Turks and Persians, Turks and Koords, Turks and Arabs, Turks and Egyptians, have fought. The idea of firing on a brother of the faith is not in itself abhorrent to a Turkish soldier.

But this order was issued as a part of the political change which puts the Christians on a level with the Moslems and had the appearance of contemplating the firing upon Moslems in the interest of Christians. It roused the spirit of fanaticism in a part of the garrison. In all probability the mutiny was not spontaneous, but was procured by the political opponents of the new regime. The cry of "Sultan and Koran!" was a cry for the supremacy of the Moslem and the subjection of the Christian. It is a dying struggle of the old regime and can hardly undo the good work of last summer. It may amount to very little.

THE DEMAND FOR OPERATIONS.

Is it possible that the surgeons have all the business they need? Dr. Deaver of Philadelphia says he has more trouble in keeping from doing operations than from doing them. It is he who a few weeks ago received a complimentary dinner from [illegible] elders and a number of the laity, [illegible] of whom may be said to have presented his appendix as a [illegible] of admiration since every one of them had had his appendix removed by Dr. Deaver.

At a meeting of a medical society which was discussing modern methods of treating diseases of the stomach Dr. Deaver said: "The public must be educated against demanding so many operations. I am besought and implored by the patient, by the patient's family and by the patient's friends to operate for everything. I have to send away more people than I operate on."

Whence does this demand for surgery come? No one will seriously pretend that there is a natural appetite for being carved by surgeons. Of course there is a good deal in fashion, even when it comes to disease and the treatment therefor, but fashions are started by some one. The women who wear tea tray hats one season and peach basket hats the next say they do not start the fashions; they are started by the men and women who make gowns and hats, and who start new fashions every season so that they can make more articles of wear.

This points to the source of fashions in surgery. It is the surgeons who have educated the public to demand operations for everything. According to Dr. Deaver they have rather overdone the business though we presume there are young surgeons who have not yet made their pile and would be glad to have such a run of custom as he has had. Yet it is clear that this habit of demanding surgery for everything was inspired by the surgeons and by doctors who had failed with drugs and therefore recommended the knife. It is a relief, especially to people who cannot pay thousand-dollar fees, to be assured that we do not need surgery for everything.

AMERICAN HOLIDAYS.

It is claimed that in America there are fewer holidays for the workingman than in any other country, that in the hurry and rush for money here the employer is too busy growing rich and the employe struggling too hard to make everything count for either to desire to take a day off now and then. As a matter of fact, there is little justice in this claim. In almost all the big cities of this country the offices, factories, shops and stores and nearly every concern which employes workmen close their doors on Saturday afternoons during the summer months, and these half-holidays have come to be looked upon as almost a national institution. There are always Christmas day, Fourth of July, Memorial day and Labor day, which are legal holidays in nearly most every state. In many of the states, principally in the East and West, there are also a number of holidays which, while not exactly termed legal, are generally observed. Many of these are kept by the banks and others by the schools, as Arbor day for instance, when part of the school day is given up to outdoor exercises and it is considered by the teachers and pupils one of the school holidays for the year.

In several states there are legal holidays exclusively their own, and generally celebrated as anniversaries of some incident in the state's history of the birth of some citizen who was prominent in the country or state. This is found to be the case in nearly every commonwealth in the Union, each celebrating its own individual events which are prominent enough in the history of the state to be made the occasion of a holiday for the people. This practice is steadily increasing, as more and more interest is taken and researches are made in the history of the states. In comparison with many other countries it would seem as if we had our full share of holidays, both legal and otherwise. While in these modern days the rush and hurry of making money goes on, the rest places in the workingman's life are more numerous than many would have us believe and time is found by both employer and employes to enjoy these holidays, which are for the benefit of both.

Despite the fact that the city for the past two years has spent more than its income, the city council of New Bedford recently decided to advance the pay of the policemen of all ranks 25 cents a day. This meant an increase in cost to the city of $10,000. The increase was not voted on account of a difference of opinion as to the pay of the housekeepers, as the men who are stationed in the houses are called, but the reason given was that the police had had no advance in 16 or 17 years, during which time there had been increases in other departments and in the cost of living.

Is it just the right thing for a city to turn over a suspected firebug to another city or town? Would it not be better to have him put in a safe place, either in prison if he is guilty or in an asylum if he is of unsound mind?

Governor Hughes says he has just begun his crusade for direct primaries, and is not at all disconcerted by the failure of the New York legislature to pass his bill.

The base ball games go on in spite of the unseasonable weather, but it takes a severe frost to kill the enthusiasm of real devotees of the national sport.

TIVERTON.

The election for one councilman was an exciting one, the previous election held a week earlier being tame in comparison. Automobiles were used on both sides, which with the teams raked the town for votes. The contest was between Roy H. Beattie and George F. Cottrell, and Cottrell won by a margin of six votes. At the previous election the result was a tie. The following is the vote by districts:

	Dist. 1.	Dist. 2.	Total
Beattie	171	161	232
Cottrell	161	77	238

AROUND RHODE ISLAND.

Providence Aldermen Defeat Ban on City Work by Officials.

Pastor of Olney Street Church Receives Threatening Letter—New Knights of Columbus Club.

By a vote of six to three the Providence board of aldermen Thursday afternoon refused to concur with the common council in the passage of the ordinance prohibiting members of the city council, city officers and employes from doing business with the city. The vote came after a prolonged debate on the measure, in which the tension at times became somewhat acute, and Mayor Fletcher, in an attempt to straighten the matter out and clear away the cloud of misunderstanding which, he said, seemed to enshroud it, sprang into the breach and quoted from the comic opera the "Mikado" without avail. Alderman William K. Reynolds, who opposed the passage of the ordinance stoutly, brought out all the pathos to be had from a hypothetical fire department horse suffering from deathly sickness and denied the alleviation of a dose of salts if the medicine had to be purchased at a store owned by a member of the city council. The aldermen voted previously on an amendment, in which the ordinance was not to go into effect until the first Monday after January 1, 1910, which was lost by a five to three vote.

"All we want is your blood, and we mean to have it," ran an anonymous letter sent to Rev. Ephram H. McDonald, pastor of the now noted Olney Street Baptist Church (colored). Another section of the missive read: "We are ready to wade in blood up to your head, and it will be done." The letter was turned over to the police for investigation. The writing is evidently that of a man, although there are appearances of an effort at disguise in several places. Mr. McDonald is pastor of the church at which there has been so much factional trouble, one result of which was the shooting of Deacon Nelson Morgan, who died at the Rhode Island Hospital this week. The sexton of the church, Robert Russell, is now held on the charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Deacon Morgan. The latter was leader of the faction opposing the regime of Rev. Mr. McDonald. References in the letter to the pastor of the church to the shooting and death of Deacon Morgan would make it appear that the writer was a friend of the dead deacon.

With nearly every one of the 1,200 members of the 10 Councils in the city present, the Knights of Columbus of Providence opened the rooms of the new Columbus Club in that city Thursday evening. Many priests, headed by Mgr. Thomas F. Doran and Rev. Edward E. Seagrave, secretary to Bishop Harkins joined in the festivities. The new club occupies the entire second floor of the building at 48 Snow street, and each of the 10 Councils will have its meetings there in the future. A large reception room to the left of the main entrance greets the visitor and a private room is provided next to it for the accommodation of the officers and guests of the club. On the righthand side of the hallway is the meeting room, a large hall elaborately decorated and luxuriously furnished. Another large room is devoted to games, with two pool tables in the centre and smaller tables around them for other games. All the speakers dwelt upon the fact that the opening of the clubrooms marks a new era in the history of the Catholic Church in Rhode Island, and Vicar General Doran of the diocese of Providence, state chaplain of the Knights of Columbus, created a storm of cheers he reminded his hearers that "It used to be said that there is as much cohesiveness among the Catholics of Rhode Island as there is in a boiler explosion, but, thank God, that time is past, and this night shows emphatically that a better spirit prevails among our people."

The new Promenade Street interlocking tower, east of the passenger station, is one of the most attractive railway buildings in Providence. It is of concrete, reinforced by steel, and has a roof of red tiles. When completed, it will be one of the most expensive buildings owned by the New York, New Haven & Hartford, the electrical machinery alone representing an investment of about $75,000. This accounts for the use of concrete; a fire would be exceptionally expensive, considering the small area covered, about 18 by 30 feet, and with absolutely fireproof construction the company believes that there is no probability of a locomotive spark endangering the Promenade Street tower. From this tower all the signals and switches governing the movement of every train entering and leaving the stations will be operated. It is said to be the largest all-electric interlocking plant in the world, and ample provision is made to cover possibility of interruption of current. Electricity can be taken from four sources—the Warren and Bristol power house, in Warren; the dynamos at the Providence station, one of the power houses in the city, and storage batteries. The probability is that one of these sources of power always will be available. The machinery will be ready for service during the coming summer.

The Young Women's Christian Association of Providence has not discontinued its efforts to wipe out its debt of $50,000. The recent campaign produced something under $46,000. One woman who gave $1,000 will raise the amount to $5,000 if one other gift of that size can be procured. A friend of the association also offers $5,000 if three others will do the same. At a meeting of the directors the board passed a vote of thanks "to every person who assisted in its recent campaign." The resolution says: "Without the cordial co-operation and valuable aid of business firms as well as individuals, and especially of the faithful and efficient corp of solicitors, the measure of success attained would have been impossible."

The delegates at a meeting in Providence of the Rhode Island Federation of Women's Clubs passed unanimously a resolution protesting against higher duties on gloves and hosiery, as proposed in the Payne tariff bill, and giving the hearty endorsement of the organization, numbering over 300 women, to the bill as reported to the Senate, which makes no changes in the duty at present obtaining on these articles.

There have been a large number of Rhode Island people in Washington during the past week, many of them interested in various items of the new tariff bill and others taking brief holiday trips. Among the visitors were Judge and Mrs. W. W. Douglas, who were on their way from the South to Atlantic City, and District Attorney Charles A. Wilson.

THE LONGEST RAILWAY IN THE WORLD.

[New York Sun.]

Cecil Rhodes, South Africa's empire builder, died at Cape Town seven years ago this month, his prestige shattered and his dreams of empire unfulfilled. Yet within less than two years after his death and his entombment in the lonely Matoppo hills, near Buluwayo, in Matabeleland, Dr. Jameson, Cecil Rhode's closest friend, by the whirligig of time, became premier of Cape Colony and set himself to work to accomplish the greatest scheme of the master mind of South Africa—the Cape to Cairo railroad. The work of construction was called forward so rapidly that the delay occasioned by the Boer war was partly recovered. The main line from Cape Town to Buluwayo, 1,300 miles long, has been in operation since 1897 and played no inconsiderable part in the war which determined British ascendency in South Africa.

As to the line north from Buluwayo, its course has been altered considerably from the original Rhodes plan, owing to the better knowledge of the country and its resources from later surveys. Most of the variations are due, however, to the projecting and building of feeders to the main line. Thus a branch runs from Buluwayo northeast to Salisbury, the capital of Rhodesia, and thence to Beira, on the Portuguese coast. The main line also from Buluwayo, thereby tapping the rich Wanki coal fields and tracts discovered by Livingstone.

The valuable copper mines 200 miles northwest from Victoria falls have also been brought within the scheme and a mail route to this region was opened four years ago. Its growing network of feeders is a natural development of the plan, and upon their survey and construction and consequent development of the country the success of the main line will largely depend. The great Victoria falls bridge, linked with the system in April, 1905, marked another great advance in the work.

Perhaps the most important fact in regard to the recent progress of what, when completed, will be the longest railway in the world, was the formation last summer of the Cape to Cairo syndicate, which intends as soon as possible to push the main line on from Broken Hill, the present terminus in Rhodesia, to a point on the frontier of the Congo State near Mayaba. In all there is a stretch of about 2,500 miles to be completed, lying between Khartum, in the British Egyptian Sudan, and Broken Hill. F. von Ghed Gndemeester, chief engineer of the new Cape to Cairo syndicate, estimates that this long link lying through central Africa will be completed within three years, and then a railway in the neighborhood of 6,000 miles long will traverse the Dark Continent, and it will be possible to go from Paris via Brindisi by rail, thence by boat to Alexandria, and then to Cairo and Cape Town by rail in 11 days.

A WOMAN WHO DOES THINGS.

[The Circle Magazine.]

It is a joy to discover a person who dares to do the thing everybody ought to do and who also dares to do it first. Some few years ago a meat-inspection bill was up before the Michigan legislature as the result of constant campaigning on the part of Mrs. Crane and her Kalamazoo club women. The farmers in the legislature discovered that meat inspection would cut off their small slaughterings and they were up in arms at once, side tracking the bill at the first reading. News of the defeat reached Mrs. Crane at four o'clock in the morning, and, catching a four-thirty train for the State capital, she arrived before the opening of the morning session. Then she proceeded to win some of the opposition and through their efforts the bill was brought up for a second reading. It was again on the point of defeat when one of these newly acquired champions called for a five-minute recess to permit Mrs. Crane to discuss the bill. Mrs. Crane talked to the point, making the purport of the bill clear and emphasizing the great need of it. During the rest of the day and night she interviewed farmers, everywhere convincing them of the reasonableness of the proposed law. The next day when the bill was finally read it was passed by an overwhelming majority. Which goes to show that Mrs. Crane is a woman who does things.

The Woman's Civic Improvement League was the result of a vigorous campaign of organization. In the street-cleaning campaign of the league the women gathered together the men on the job and gave them some lessons in handling a broom. Old men they were for the most part, not used to hard work or the interference of petticoats.

It was another great day when they washed down the asphalt with a hose and brooms, almost resorting to soap and scrub brushes in an effort to get off the dirt of ages. There was no sprinkling of pavement after that day but a thorough scrub twice a week with the fire department to assist. The men who were lazy and refused to work in the new way were dismissed, the men who took pride in the new system had their pay raised; in this fashion the white wings were whipped into shape, becoming, before the end of three months a rival of the fire department for brilliant service.

GROWTH OF PANAMA TRAFFIC.

Traffic between the eastern and western coasts of the United States by way of the isthmian railways and steamship lines amounted to practically $50,000,000 in 1908, a marked increase over any earlier year, according to figures compiled by the bureau of statistics, Department of Commerce and Labor. The railway on the isthmus of Panama, 40 miles in length, is devoted largely to traffic growing out of the construction of the Panama canal; the railway at Tehuantepec, 190 miles in length, although opened only at the beginning of 1907, carried during 1907 and 1908 between $60,000,000 and $70,000,000 worth of merchandise between Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States. Of the merchandise crossing by way of the Panama railway, $8,600,000 worth moved from the Atlantic to the Pacific and only a little more than $1,000,000 worth from the Pacific to the Atlantic. New York and San Francisco are the chief centres for the ocean and trans-isthmian traffic. Of the $2,750,000 worth of domestic traffic passing westward over the Panama line, practically all originated at New York and $2,500,000 worth of it went to San Francisco. The distance between New York and San Francisco by the two lines are via Panama 5,305 miles; via Tehuantepec 4,415 miles.

STRANGE FOODS.

[London Chronicle.]

We certainly waste many possible foods, and miss many curious flavors. Even in Paris the workman eats horseflesh because he likes it, and with the passage of the horse to the auction mart we should take our motor to the dinner party and hear the footman announce, as he did during the siege of Paris, "Madame, les chevaux sont prets." Frank Buckland, as we have said, found disinterred panther not very good. But his experiments sometimes ended in such a success as the boa constrictor steak, which he considered equal to deliciously tender veal.

A certain courage is necessary to tackle the unusual food. But the Mississippi woodcutters are fond of stewed rattlesnake—they call it "musical Jack"—and Greenlanders love the seal that has been buried and disinterred in a putrid state. There are occidentals who have eaten the Chinese egg, which has lain in the earth these two years. And this writer knows a doctor who, as a medical student—wishing to taste everything—ate a small portion of human flesh, carefully disguised. Perhaps one may be too cosmopolitan in the matter of food.

OTHERS DO IT.

[Nashville Tennessean.]

Don't be ashamed of yourself for picking up horseshoes and keeping them. If you want to pick up pins every time you see them lying with the point to you, do it. If you want to touch every other picket as you pass a certain fence, touch them. If you do not like coffee when the cream is not put into the cup before the coffee, don't drink it. Having whims and superstitions is not necessarily the sign of a soft head. Great men of all ages have had eccentricities, and many of them were not ashamed to own up to them. Charles Dickens had to carry a compass about with him so he could be sure that his bed stood due north and south before he retired. Max Muller carried a ha'-penny with a hole in it, as a luck piece. The great Parnell could not permit his guests to stir coffee from left to right, and Lord Roberts made a collection of horseshoes in the Boer war.

Great thinkers often wear a path in the carpet, avoiding certain figures in the pattern which annoy them. It is common for persons of sound mind to be seized with a fear that certain chandeliers are about to fall. Lord Macaulay never could pass a certain fence without touching certain posts.

Don't laugh at the fellows who carry petrified potatoes and wishbones and rabbits' feet. Stop and think of your own oddities and peculiarities. You are probably creepy on the subject of thirteen. Perhaps you fall into a cold sweat when a snowball blooms out of season, or a black cat joins your household, or a rabbit crosses your path in a country lane going due nor'west; and nobody will deny that cackling roosters and crowing hens are an abomination in the sight of the Lord.

METALS WHICH ARE TRANSPARENT.

[New York Herald.]

Metals are usually regarded as opaque, but they become translucent when hammered out into very thin sheets. An English physicist, who has been studying this property, finds that although thin gold leaf is usually green by transmitted light, the green light becomes white when the film is heated on glass. Microscopic examination shows that the gold has formed into opaque, detached spots, leaving clear spaces, through which the light passes. Silver leaf also becomes transparent when heated. Copper leaf, when heated more and more, becomes successively emerald green, light olive, dark olive and dark port wine color. These latter results are apparently due to the formation of films of oxide, since to produce them the metals must be heated in an atmosphere containing oxygen. Aluminum and "Dutch metal" do not become transparent when heated. By the electric theory of light, according to which conductors must be opaque and insulators transparent, the metals should not transmit light, and it is notable that they do not except in very thin films which have a high electric resistance.

RESCUED IN BREECHES BUOY.

Captain and Three Men Taken from the G. A. Hayden.

Schooner Pounding to Pieces on the Rocks North of Point Judith.

A despatch from Point Judith says that Captain Thomas Whalen and the three members of the crew of two-masted schooner G. A. Hayden were taken ashore early today in the breeches buoy from their vessel, which struck on the rocks about two miles north of Point Judith last night. The schooner pounded heavily throughout the night and it was believed today that she could not be saved. The Hayden was bound, light, from Vineyard Haven for New Haven, and Thursday afternoon ran into Narragansett Bay. When first sighted she was trying to pass by Point Judith in the thick fog which had prevailed all day and most of the night.

When Captain Whalen discovered that he was being driven towards Point Judith he had two anchors thrown overboard and soon the schooner was riding safely, about 300 yards off shore. The chains could not stand the strain, however, and one of them parted. Fearing the other anchor chain would not hold, Captain Whalen tried to put about and work inside the Point Judith breakwater. For a while the schooner made fair headway, but a sudden shift of the wind drove the craft toward the land. In a short time she was driven on the rocks, not far from Flat rocks.

The schooner was discovered soon after she struck by one of the patrolmen from the Point Judith life saving station. He notified the station and Captain Amos P. Tifft, commander, ordered out the lifeboat. On account of the heavy sea and the nature of the coast where the schooner struck, the lifeboat put back in the station and recourse was made to the breeches buoy. The life savers, in order to reach the schooner's crew with the breeches buoy, were obliged to haul the apparatus more than three miles, through muddy swamps and over rough and rocky roads, until, shortly before midnight, they reached a spot on shore opposite the place where the Hayden was pounding to pieces in the surf.

Captain Tifft's first attempt to shoot a line to the Hayden was successful and shortly after midnight the first of the four men on board the schooner was hauled ashore, up to his neck in the water during the last stage of the journey, as the beach at that point is flat. The other men were brought ashore as rapidly as the buoy could be sent out and hauled back, and all were made as comfortable as possible at the life saving station. Except for the clothing they wore, the sailors saved nothing from the wreck.

The G. A. Hayden was built at Essex, Conn., in 1857. She registered 102 tons net, was 96 feet 8 inches long, 26 feet 3 inches beam, and drew 7 feet 1 inch. She was owned at Edgartown, Mass., and was employed in the oyster trade.

WRECKED ON NO MAN'S LAND.

Wireless Brings the First News of Disaster to Barkentine Lakeside.

The following wireless despatch was received at the Torpedo Station early this morning:

"On board the North Star, passing Vineyard Sound lightship, at 5.40 A. M., April 16.

"Sighted four-masted barkentine, apparently ashore on No Man's Land. Captain Bragg."

Commander Bristol of the Torpedo Station at once caused the wireless despatch to be sent out, in the hope that it would reach some of the revenue cutters and they might go to her assistance. The waking public of the wireless message will also undoubtedly result in the putting out of tugs to the assistance of the craft, thus again showing the advantage of the wireless in assembling assistance, even before those in distress because of their out-of-the-way position are able to apply for it.

This news was followed later in the forenoon by the following Associated Press despatch from Vineyard Haven:

Four-masted barkentine Lakeside of Yarmouth, N. S., lies on the western end of the little island of No Man's Land, and probably will be a total loss. She was sighted early today, when the haze from yesterday's storm cleared away, but her identity was not known here until revenue cutter Acushnet arrived at Vineyard Haven this afternoon, with Captain Wetmore and one of the members of the crew of the barkentine.

The Lakeside left Turk's Island March 19 for Boston with a cargo of salt. The vessel ran ashore late Wednesday evening and two hours later was full of water. Thursday morning the captain and his crew of ten men landed on the island in their own boats, without difficulty and until this forenoon were cared for by the few inhabitants of the little island.

This morning revenue cutter Acushnet arrived off the island but found it could do nothing toward floating the vessel. The Acushnet took on board Captain Wetmore and Second Mate Jean Fralic of Bridgewater, N. S., who had one leg broken by falling from aloft while at sea April 7, and brought them here. Fralic was taken to the marine hospital. The other members of th crew remained on No Man's Land, pending instructions from the captain.

The Lakeside registered 726 tons net and was built at Grangemouth in 1559. She is owned by W. L. Levitt & Co. of Yarmouth, N. S.

JAMESTOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

Mr. Charles Tucker of Point Judith is guest of his brother, Mr. H. B. Tucker, on Brook street.

Mrs. William Hammell is quite seriously ill at her home on Narragansett avenue.

Tug Teaser lay up here last night, on account of the heavy sea running outside.

Thursday night's storm put the telephone cable connecting the island with Newport out of commission, the trouble evidently being caused by a short circuit, by the flooding of some of the cable boxes by the heavy rain.

Mr. Ralph R. Barker of Newport was on the island today, overseeing the planting of a wagon load of evergreens on his lot on Conanicus avenue.

Dr. W. L. Bates of Providence is in town, supervising extensive improvements to his sanitarium on Conanicus avenue.

Town Clerk Severance has received leaflets calling attention to the law which recently went into effect, compelling hunters to take out licenses. Already applications have been received at the office, but as he has not been supplied with the blank forms none have been issued.

BROWN TO BE REPRESENTED.

Track Team Will Probably Go to Alaska-Yukon Exposition.

PROVIDENCE, April 16.—The manager of the Brown University track team has received a very encouraging letter from the managers of the Alaska-Yukon exposition concerning the sending of a track team to represent Brown at that exposition next summer. It is planned to send the track team on the same trip that the base ball is scheduled to make. It was stated today that everything pointed to the undertaking of the trip, though final action rests with the athletic board.

HOPE FOR ULTIMATE RECOVERY

Governor Lilley Continues to Rest Comfortably Day and Night.

HARTFORD, Conn., April 16.—The condition of Governor George L. Lilley, who is ill at his home here, continues to give hope for his ultimate recovery. The report from the executive mansion this morning was to the effect that the governor is resting comfortably night and day and that there has been no material change in his condition during the past two or three days.

EARTH SHOCKS FELT.

Loud Rumblings Accompany Those in Imperial and El Centro.

EL CENTRO, Cal., April 16.—Both Imperial and El Centro experienced three distinct earth shocks last night at intervals of several seconds. Two of the quakes were preceded by loud rumblings. Buildings were shaken, but no damage was done.

PREPARING FOR FINAL CODE.

British and American Fish Commissioners Compare Findings.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., April 16.—Professor E. E. Prince, who represents the British government on the international fish commission, has arrived to confer with Davis Starr Jordan, the United States commissioner appointed by former President Roosevelt. The two commissioners will compare the result of their investigation preliminary to the preparation of a final code of laws, governing the international fishery relations of the two countries. The final code will be sent to President Taft, who will submit it to Congress. The code also will be presented to the British Parliament. If the combined code is ratified, its provisions will apply to all the fishing waters contiguous to the United States and Canada.

OBLIGATIONS SETTLED.

Louis G. Spencer of Stock Exchange Makes Payments in Full.

NEW YORK, April 16.—Announcement was made, today, at the Consolidated Stock Exchange that Louis G. Spencer, who yesterday failed to pay his balance at the exchange clearing house and was given 24 hours in which to make a settlement, had today settled his obligations in full.

DEATH OF MRS. MANCHESTER.

Mrs. Susie B., wife of Mr. Charles A. Manchester, died today at her home on Powel avenue, after a long illness though she had been able to be out until early this week. She was a daughter of Mrs. Susan A. Langley and a sister of Mrs. Martin E. Bennett and Mrs. Charles S. Plummer. She leaves several children, including Charles A. Manchester, Jr., of Providence and Miss Susan M. Manchester, a teacher in the public schools. Mrs. Manchester was formerly an employe of the Daily News office as a compositor. She was a woman of many fine traits and leaves a wide circle of friends in the community.

SCHOOL OUTING ON THE ROCKS.

The Ninth Grade of the Calvert School took the twice-postponed outing today, some going in drags and some on wheels to Price's Neck, where they are spending the time on the rocks and about the life saving station, having plenty of fresh air, seeing the sights and having a good time generally. The life savers and the teachers have kept a supervising eye over them, and during the day the former gave an exhibition of some of their work. The children carried their luncheon, but may be expected to have appetites when they return home.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Conductor James York, who has been bringing the 9 o'clock train into Newport for years and has been coming here in the railroad business for 35 years or more, died at his home in Boston this morning. He was here last Tuesday and complained of not feeling well. The news of his death was a surprise to a large circle of friends in this city.

NO GUESTS HAD TIME TO DRESS.

Hotel, a lodging house for laborers, at Howard and Eighth streets. Eight other small buildings were burned. The bodies taken to the morgue were so charred that identification was impossible. The hotel was a three-story frame building and burned so rapidly that none of the 150 guests had time to dress. Many escaped by jumping to the roof of an adjoining workshop. Scores clambered down the firemen's ladders and fire escapes. Four jumped to safety in a net held by the fire fighters.

Later another body was recovered, bringing the total number of known dead up to six.

Two hundred persons were in the hotel when the fire broke out, 137 of these being regular boarders. Of the latter 20 are unaccounted for, but it is believed that most of them escaped in the confusion and have neglected to report their safety.

SCHOOL COMMUTATION TICKETS.

Interstate Commerce Commission Seeking Satisfactory Rule.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—A decision was reached today by the Interstate Commerce Commission to institute an investigation in regard to the right of railways to sell commutation tickets "to children attending schools of a certain kind or class, while excluding pupils attending various other kinds of schools," and has fixed May 6 as the date for the hearing of testimony and arguments on this subject. A few months ago the commission issued an informal ruling respecting the selling of school commutation tickets which proved unsatisfactory, and the hearing is with a view to determining what is just between the carriers and the commutation pupils.

BILL TO BE EXPLAINED

House to Have Hearings on the Philippine Tariff Measure

WASHINGTON, April 16—In order that no time may be lost in having the new Philippine tariff bill passed as a complement to the Payne tariff bill, the House ways and means committee will begin hearings on the measure commencing Tuesday next. Brigadier General Edwards, chief of the insular bureau, of the War Department, will explain to the committee the necessity for the enactment of the measure, so that it will become operative simultaneously with the Philippine free trade provisions of the Payne bill. General Edwards will be accompanied by several of the customs officials from the islands, who will explain the various features of the bill and the methods by which the duties imposed were determined upon. Other witnesses also are expected to appear before the committee.

NO CONCLUSION REACHED.

Democratic Senators Continue Conference on Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The Democratic Senators continued their conference today on the tariff bill. The attendance was not large and the meeting was devoted to an exchange of opinions on the various schedules of the Payne-Aldrich bill. There was no effort to reach a general conclusion that would be binding on any one.

TAFT GREETS LABOR LEADERS.

Leaders of American Federation Present Views to President.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—President Taft today received the members of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor headed by Samuel Gompers. The representative of the organized workmen presented to the President a brief outline of the legislation they would like to have enacted. Mr. Taft greeted the labor leaders pleasantly and promised to consider their views. In the delegation were a number of officials of the federation who figured in the Presidential campaign of last fall when they worked against Mr. Taft.

In addition to President Gompers those who saw the President were Frank Morrison, secretary of the federation, James Duncan, John Mitchell, James O'Connell, Max Morris, William Huber, John B. Lennon, John R. Alpine, and Joseph Valentine.

The labor leaders are said to be particularly interested in an endeavor to have the Sherman anti-trust law amended, with reference to the provision that effects the right of labor to strike and boycott; to secure legislation which will prevent the abuse of the power of injunction by courts, to secure a stricter enforcement of the eight-hour law on all government work, including contracts and to have enacted a government liability law which will provide for the payment of damages to workingmen injured on government work.

FATAL AUTOMOBILE RIDE.

Machine Crashes Into Tree Crushing Chauffeur to Death.

NEW YORK, April 16.—An automobile ride of four young men ended in death for one of their number and fatal injury to another, when a touring car in which they were driving at a terrific speed crashed into a tree in Central Park at dawn today. Matthew Camp, an employe of the Moon Automobile Company, who was acting as chauffeur, was crushed to death, the front seat on which he was sitting being driven backward by the impact, until it took the place of the rear seat of the tonneau. Joseph Fogarty was thrown on his head on a concrete walk adjoining the driveway and suffered a fracture of the skull, from which he is not expected to recover. Ernest Freyer was thrown out of the machine and his right leg fractured. Joseph Hoyl, the fourth occupant of the car, fell upon the turf and, abandoning his injured companions, fled in a panic for the subway station where he was captured by a policeman and arrested.

The car was badly smashed.

Lynn Shoe Manufacturers Consider Proposals Made by Labor Unions.

LYNN, Mass., April 16.—The Lynn manufacturers have taken under consideration certain proposals made to them by the labor unions in connection with the proposed industrial peace arrangement which the manufacturers are trying to bring about. The unions at a meeting Sunday last considered the plan as presented to them by the manufacturers and agreed upon various modifications, which were submitted at a conference between union leaders and manufactures yesterday. The date of the next meeting has not yet been arranged.

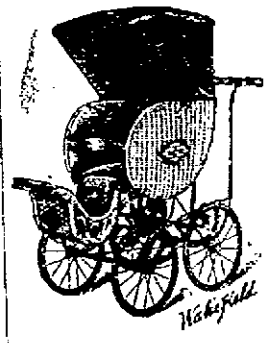

The unions favor the general scheme proposed by the manufacturers of a central lodge and subordinate lodges of manufacturers and operatives. The modifications they suggest are merely in details. The lasters' and edgemakers' unions are holding aloft from the negotiations for the present.

DEPUTY WARDEN KILLED.

Officer of Penitentiary in Toronto Murdered by a Convict.

TORONTO, April 16—A special from Edmonton, Alberta, says: Richard H. Stedman, deputy warden in the Provincial penitentiary, there, was murdered yesterday by Gary R Barrett, a life convict sentenced a year ago for the murder of his step-son at North Battleford. The crime was committed in the carpenter shop where Barrett was employed.

The deputy warden had just entered the building on a tour of inspection when Barrett struck him on the base of the skull with an axe, almost severing the head. There is no known cause for the crime except that Stedman refused to allow Barrett to see the prison doctor without going on the sick list, according to the rules.

A MODEL PLANT.

Furnace of Modern Type and Building Perfectly Clean.

Success of the New Garbage Crematory at the Naval Training Station.

[Civil Engineer R. E. Bakenhus, U. S. N., in Engineering Record.]

Considerable attention has been directed toward the new garbage crematory at the United States naval Training Station, Newport, R. I., because of the success of the furnace and the general excellence of the plant as a whole. The furnace is of the most modern type and the building is different from that of the ordinary crematory in its perfected arrangements for cleanliness, and in its nearness to living quarters. The good results obtained, it is believed, will make this plant a model for other much-needed crematories under similar circumstances. Until about one years ago, the garbage at this station was dumped directly into the beautiful waters of Narragansett bay. The portion not eaten by the numerous sea gulls was carried away by the tide, whence parts reappeared on the shore. While conditions had by no means become acute, it was decided to dispose of the garbage in a more sanitary way. The decision was timely, as the station has grown in population and a most serious nuisance has been avoided.

The number of men quartered in the barracks buildings and on the station ships varies from about 1,000 to 2,500, and in addition 14 officers' families and a 60-bed hospital are located there. The station is on a picturesque island of 100 acres lying to the north and west of the city of Newport, and contains over 30 buildings, large and small. The site of the crematory was, therefore, of great importance. The following consideration governed in the choice of the location: The building to be located near the "center of gravity" for the garbage produced; to be near an already existing coal pile to simplify the fuel problem; not to occupy a prominent position, and the handling of garbage to be kept in the background; the site to be leeward in prevailing winds. The building was finally placed within 150 feet of the group of sanitary receiving barracks, fulfilling all the conditions named. In making a selection of a site so close to living quarters of the men, it was borne in mind that there is nothing unclean or harmful about a garbage crematory, if the plant is properly designed and efficiently operated.

The building was specially designed for the purpose intended, the principal features being the most perfect possible facilities for cleanliness, economy in the handling of garbage, and a reasonably low initial cost. The building is set at the edge of a pit which was formerly part of a stone quarry and is thus accessible at two levels. There are two floors, the first about one foot above pit level and the second about ten feet six inches higher, at the upper ground level. Small retaining walls with earth and cinder fill enable a cart to drive to the second floor level and back onto the charging platform.

The appearance of the building is attractive; the white enameled brick walls and furnace, the bright brass hardware and panel board give an appearance of cleanliness and thrift and are the best possible inducement toward maintaining a clean condition. So often garbage furnaces are located in dark and unsanitary places, the thought being that a garbage destructor plant is of necessity dirty and loathsome. In the present design the very opposite idea is embodied, namely, that there should be light everywhere, with no nooks and corners for dirt, and every detail devised to facilitate and invite cleaning. In other words, cleanliness is emphasized and forms the motive of the whole design. It should be remembered that garbage, though by no means attractive, is not unclean.

Garbage and rubbish are collected either in a steel dumping cart or in barrels and cans. In either case, the material is delivered on the charging platform over the furnace. The cart loads are dumped on the floor and allowed to drain while being handled into the furnace by fork or shovel. The barrels and cans are also allowed to drain and are then emptied into the furnace. Such sorting as is necessary is done on the charging platform. This consists principally in the removal of tin cans and other noncombustible rubbish. One man is able to take care of the garbage after delivery in the building. He also fires the furnace and is responsible for the condition of the plant. Garbage is collected on Sundays and holidays, but is usually not burned until the following day. It is either stored on the charging platform or in the furnace.

The garbage is usually wet and consists principally of food remnants; the portion of rubbish, such as wood, paper, cloth, etc., is comparatively very small—under ten per cent. The total amount of garbage varies with the population of the island, but during the last few months has averaged about four and one-half tons daily.

The utilization of the heat from the combustion of the garbage was seriously considered. To this end it was at one time proposed to place the plant in a portion of the reservation requiring new heating boilers and pass the flue gases through the combustion chambers and over the heating surfaces of the boilers, using coal on the boiler grates when the garbage furnace was not in operation. But a satisfactory layout was not obtainable, since the heating surface of the boiler if designed for the garbage furnace gases would not be properly designed for coal and vice versa. The efficiency of both plants would also be diminished and the site likewise militated against the project. The inclusion of the furnace as an element of the two existing boiler plants was abandoned for similar reasons, and also for lack of space. Furthermore, the routine of boiler room operation would be interfered with if any attempt were made to pass the garbage furnace gases over the heating surfaces. Had overloaded sections been available, it is believed that the heat from the combustion of garbage could have been utilized, when available for heating feed water, but neither the construction nor the space could be had. Hence the garbage crematory was placed in a building of its own.

A record of the approximate amount of garbage and coal consumed during several months shows that one pound of coal is used for about 13 to 17 pounds of garbage. The cost of incineration under present conditions, attendant being paid $2 per day, coal costing $3.60 per ton at furnace and four and one-half tons of garbage being burned per day, is about 65 cents per ton of garbage.

New York city has thus far given its estimate for the proposed Hudson-Fulton celebration next fall $250,000. The committee expects to spend $1,075,000, of which $550,000 is to be for the celebration above the city of Newburg and $525,000 below Newburg, with $50,000 in New York.

HEALTHY PLANTS

Require the Most Careful Attention as Well as Good Soil.

Did you ever see a rosebush which—despite the most beneficent environment of soil—of sunshine—and of atmosphere,—seemed never to achieve a healthy growth.

A ton of manure will not help a plant that has a canker eating out its heart.

You must destroy the cause before you can remove the effect.

You cannot cure Dandruff and Baldness by rubbing on hair lotions, and rubbing in vaseline, etc.

You must look to the cause of the trouble—it's a germ at the roots of your hair which causes it to fall out.

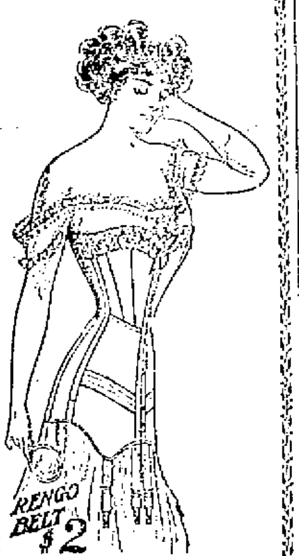

Newbro's Herpicide destroys the germ, and healthy hair is the sure result.

We have never shown a new corset that so quickly attracted wide attention and comment as has the RENGO BELT.

This corset has the most pronounced style of any we carry, due to the remarkable idea of tailoring a reinforcing belt into the body of the corset which positively produces an even, sloping waist and reduces the hips. A pronounced waist line is largely due to lacing. The RENGO BELT gives the waist a graceful, natural shape with long flowing lines from bust to thigh, unmarred by large hips.

ABSOLUTE CURE OF SKIN ERUPTION

Broke Out on Hips and Legs—Was So Sore, Irritating and Painful that Little Sufferer Could Not Sleep—Scratched Constantly and Kept Growing Worse.

CUTICURA'S EFFECT QUICK AND PERMANENT

"When about two and a half years old my daughter broke out on her hips and the upper parts of her legs with a very irritating and painful eruption. It began in October; the first I noticed was a little red surface and a constant desire on her part to scratch her limbs. She could not sleep and the eruptions got sore, and yellow water came out of them. I had two doctors treat her, but she grew worse under their treatment. Then I bought the Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Resolvent, and only used them two weeks when she was entirely well. This was in February. She has never had another rough place on her skin, and she is now fourteen years old. I used only half the bottle of Cuticura Resolvent and less than a box of Cuticura Ointment. Mrs. R. R. Whitaker, Winchester, Tenn., Sept. 22, 1908."

WOMEN

Everywhere Use Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment

FLOODS CAUSE MUCH DAMAGE.

Water Reaches Highest Point Recorded Since Spring of 1902.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., April 16.—A rise of more than one foot in the Connecticut river since 8 o'clock last night aggravated the flood situation here and at 9 a. m. today the river gauge showed 18.7 feet above low water mark. This is about 11 feet above normal stage. The flood today had reached the highest point recorded since the spring of 1902, when the water rose to 19.4 feet.

The Agawam meadows today were from eight to 10 feet under water. The park at the foot of Elm street was covered with four feet of water. Houses on Porter avenue in West Springfield were surrounded by water and the cellars were filled. In Springfield several factory cellars were flooded and the use of powerful steam pumps was all that prevented a complete cessation of manufacturing operations. The ticket office and landing of the steamer Sylvia was swept away.

CONNECTICUT RIVER SUBSIDES.

Water Falls About Six Inches and No Further Damage Expected.

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., April 16.—The water in the Connecticut river, at this point, fell about six inches during last night and was slowly subsiding today. No further damage from the freshet is anticipated. Several washouts on the Central Vermont and Boston & Maine Railroads in this section were repaired during the night and trains were running without interruption today.

WORK IN MILLS RESUMED.

Waters of Pennigewasset and Winnepesaukee Recede Rapidly.

FRANKLIN, N. H., April 16.—All flood danger in this vicinity has passed for the present and for nearly 24 hours the waters of the Pennigewasset and Winnepesaukee rivers, which unite here to form the Merrimac, have been receding steadily.

With the exception of two rooms, all the departments of the Sulloway Hosiery Mills, which had to close yesterday on account of the flood, resumed operations today.

MILL SHUTS DOWN.

Owing to High Water of the Androscoggin Work is Stopped.

BERLIN, N. H., April 16.—The wool room at the Cascade Mill of the International Paper Company had to be shut down today owing to the high water in the Androscoggin river. The water, however, began to recede this forenoon, and it was expected that both the Androscoggin and the Dead river would be much lower before night. The weather had cleared. The floods did not cause any serious washouts on the railroads in this vicinity.

REACHES GREATEST HEIGHT.

Merrimac River Rises Eight Feet Above Normal.

NASHAU, N. H., April 16.—The Merrimac river here reached its greatest height this afternoon and is about eight feet above normal. Back water in the Nashua river channel caused a shut down of the Jackson Cotton Mills where 800 operatives are employed. The Nashua river has not yet reached freshet proportions, nor is it expected that it will. Outside of forcing the mills to shut down by flooding the wheel pit, record high water does no damage here during any spring freshet.

FORCED TO SUSPEND WORK.

Rise of the Androscoggin Hinders Operations in Factories.

BRUNSWICK, Me., April 16.—The Lisbon Falls & Pejepscot Pulp Mills were shut down today on account of the high water in the Androscoggin river. Considerable damage was done during the night to the old plant of the Brunswick Electric Light & Power Company and it was forced to suspend operations. The river was eight feet over the dam here this morning and within two feet of the point reached in the 1896 freshet. It was still rising at 9 a. m. but began to recede two hours later and no further damage was anticipated. Although the pulp mills were forced to suspend, the paper mills were not affected. A few machines in the Cabot Cotton Mills were shut down. The damage at the electric light plant was confined to carrying away of the end of the tail race, which left the wheels exposed. This cannot be repaired until the river subsides.

OIL PROVES FUEL SAVER.

Monitor Cheyenne Returns to San Pedro After Long Test Run.

SAN PEDRO, Cal., April 16.—Coast defense monitor Cheyenne has returned to this port from a long cruise made to test the efficiency of oil as a fuel. Although no official statement will be made until the report sent to Washington is given out, officers who have watched the tests state that oil has been proved a saving in fuel as well and the work of the oil burning plant installed on the monitor at Mare Island, has been perfect, theoretically and practically. Steam pressure can be maintained much more evenly than with coal, a higher speed can be secured and smoke, cinders and dirt are eliminated. In times of war, the absence of smoke, the officers point out, is a valuable consideration. With oil the Cheyenne on a power trip trial has been able to make a higher rate of speed than with coal and her steaming radius of 1,500 miles, with coal, has been increased to 2,300 with oil. The fuel supplied to the burners is superheated to about 400 degrees Fahrenheit before entering the burners, and the oil to about 200 degrees. The oil is used in a gaseous instead of a liquid state.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Robert Russell of Providence Pleads Not Guilty.

PROVIDENCE, April 16.—Robert Russell pleaded not guilty to a charge of murder brought against him in connection with the death of Deacon Nelson Morgan of the Olney Street Colored Baptist Church in the sixth district court today. He was committed to the Providence county jail without bail until April 29, when he will be given a trial.

It has been alleged that Russell shot the deacon on the steps of the church last month. The affair was the culmination of a feud which has existed between two factions of the church for a long time.

STARVING TO DEATH.

Indians at Fort Chippewyan Are Dying, Result of Fur Crop Failure.

TORONTO, Ontario, April 16.—A special from Edmonton, Alberta, says: Reports from Fort Chippewyan state as a result of the failure of the fur crop the Indians are slowly starving to death. Many are mere skeletons, too weak even to get wood and are huddled together in the tepees. Foods also have been very scarce.

ANXIOUS FOR OFFICES.

Politicians Haunt Capital and White House Nowadays.

Tariff Views—Trouble in Porto Rico—Representative Finley—a Benefactor to the Government.

[Washington Correspondence of the News.]

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Considering that this administration is the same politically as the last, there is a larger army of office seekers sojourning in the Capital City than was expected. And from all accounts they are becoming impatient over the slow progress being made by President Taft in making changes. The aspirants for positions have not exactly insisted that Republicans should be turned out before the expiration of their terms, but impatience has been manifested because appointments have not been made in cases where terms have expired. The place hunters supposed that action certainly would be taken to give a general idea at least as to what policy the new administration would follow with reference to filling vacancies. Quite a percentage of men in snug positions were not Taft supporters in the preliminary contest within the Republican party prior to the assembling of the Chicago convention, and complaint is heard that in spite of their well known attitude they are permitted to hold on to their jobs after their terms have expired. President Taft however, has not yet had time to determine how far he is going in making changes, and some of the best posted Republican Senators and Representatives seem to think that most of the hopeful patriots will have to wait until next winter before they find out just where they stand.

Because Representative Jim Tawney offered an amendment to the Payne bill to place rough lumber on the free list several of his political associates tried to read him out of the Republican party in the lively speeches they fired off right after his proposition was sprung. Representative Pou of North Carolina, who is one of the prominent Democratic members of the ways and means committee, balked at free lumber and voted with the regular Republican organization to maintain the schedule, as did some 35 other Democrats from southern states, and Congressman Francis Burton Harrison of New York immediately tried to read these members out of their party by flashing the Denver platform on them, which declared for free lumber.

If any faith is to be put in reports reaching Washington, Uncle Sam soon may have to give a spanking to one of his children. Some queer capers are being cut, down in the island of Porto Rico. Statements that are being received here in great numbers purport to show that the natives are almost in rebellion over imaginary wrongs being inflicted by the high officials sent down by the United States government, and certain political organizations are charged with trying to incite the populace to resistance.

Representative Finley of South Carolina is a tall, well built man who weighs upward of 200 pounds. He arose in the House for a speech. At least the members on the floor and the people in the galleries thought they were going to hear a speech. He had typewritten pages in his hand and his observers, after sizing him up, no doubt expected that an orator was about to give them a treat. But Mr. Finley has one of those whispering voices like the venerable Representative Sperry of Connecticut, who read an essay recently in tones so low that it seemed more like a pantomime effort than anything else. However, these addresses read well in print.

In a sketch furnished of himself for the Congressional Directory, Representative Charles Augustus Crow of Missouri mentions a matter to which he evidently points with pride. Mr. Crow, it seems, was for some years postmaster at Caruthersville, where he resides and while serving in that capacity discovered that Uncle Sam was getting gouged in the weighing of the mails. He promptly called the attention of Congress to the matter, and now he claims that as a result of his tip the government effected a saving of $10,000,000 a year in the weighing of the mails. It will be strange if Crow does not light on the House post office committee after doing this wonderful thing, but that will depend upon how many other statesmen are pestering Uncle Joe to assign them to that important committee.

Senator Brown of Nebraska in a speech here, in handing out a left handed compliment to William J. Bryan, whacked pretty hard the party of Mr. Bryan in this language: "Nebraska was lost to the Republican fold because the candidate of the opposition was believed by his neighbors to be better than his party, and they reckoned it was no harm for them to compliment the candidate knowing, as they did, that the rest of the country would repudiate the party."

Charles W. Arthur.

RHEUMATIC FOLKS.

Are You Sure Your Kidneys Are Well?

Many rheumatic attacks are due to uric acid in the blood. But the duty of the kidneys is to remove all uric acid from the blood. Its presence there shows the kidneys are inactive.

Don't dally with "uric acid solvents." You might go on till doomsday with them but until you cure the kidneys you will never get well. Doan's Kidney Pills not only remove uric acid, but cure the kidneys and then all danger from uric acid is ended. Here is Newport testimony to prove it.

John L. Cookingham, Retired, 20 Poplar Street, Newport, R. I., says: "I was greatly benefited by Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Wright & Hay's drug store and earnestly recommend them. I suffered almost constantly for two years from kidney complaint and rheumatism. There were such terrible pains in my back at times that I could scarcely turn over in bed and many nights I could not sleep at all. The rheumatism made its appearance in my right limb and gradually extended into my arms and shoulders. Doan's Kidney Pills went to the seat of my trouble at once and as before said, brought me relief from my suffering."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

RELICS FOUND IN SICILY.

Traces of Phoenicians Discovered and Necropolis Shows Two Forms of Interment.

[Palermo letter to New York Times.]

"There is some good in every ill," the French say, and the destruction of Messina by earthquake has served to draw attention to another part of Sicily—to the little island of Pantaleo, known in ancient times as Motya, once a stronghold of the Phoenicians and the scene of the famous siege by Dionysius and the Syracusan army in 397 B. C. The present interests in Motya are the excavations that are being conducted by the owner of the property, Joseph Whitaker of Marsala and Palermo.

Motya lies on the coast six miles distant on the road from Marsala to Trapani. Until recently only two or three houses in the modern town were known to have traces of the stones of the ancient Phoenician city.

The idea of excavating at Motya first occurred to Mr. Whitaker some 25 years ago. He then and there set to work to acquire land on the island, and finally succeeded in getting possession of the entire property in 1905. The task was no light one, for although the island is only a few hundred acres in extent, the number of petty farms upon it was considerable, most of the holdings being occupied by persons born and brought up on the spot and thus not unnaturally, loath to leave it. In many cases, however, particularly those of the older inhabitants, the new proprietor did not insist on their abandonment of their homes, but was quite willing that they should remain in them as tenants.

The systematic excavation of the island began early in 1906, and is now in progress under the charge of Signor Lipani, a well known resident of Marsala, supervised on behalf of the Italian authorities by Professor Salinas of Palermo. A local museum has just been erected, in which all the objects of interest from the excavations are being arranged. To this museum the celebrated bas relief of a tiger devouring a bull with a Phoenician inscription, originally found at Motya which for many years has been preserved at the town hall of Marsala, has now been removed by arrangement with the municipality, and will form one of its chief attractions.

The walls, partly composed of huge unworked rocks, in so-called Cyclopean style, and partly of solid well wrought masonry, have been carefully explored, and some interesting features, not visible before, have come to light. The northern gate now seems likely to be surpassed by the southern gate, the massive battlements of which have been found lying in the immediate vicinity.

Besides this, two important stone staircases in the line of the walls have been disclosed—one to the northeast of the island, composed of a double flight with 23 steps, the other presenting a single flight of only 11. The former of these staircases, which form a sallyport descending to sea level, is in almost complete preservation. A still more remarkable "find," however, is a rectangular inclosure, substantially built of stone, at the southern end of the island, which was evidently a small island harbor, or cothon, measuring about 40 by 20 yards, with a narrow stone-lined channel leading to the sea. This had been disguised by its conversion into a salt pan, such as are in common use throughout the district, but its original purpose is unmistakable.

Another very striking discovery is that of the necropolis at the northern extremity of the island on the strip of shore between the fortifications and the sea. This is highly interesting to the archeologist, as it shows two forms of interment in close propinquity, urn-shaped cavities in the rock with cremated remains being found at the lower level, and sarcophagi above them. The vases recovered from the lower stratum are all of very primitive shape and design.

Mr. Whitaker believes this necropolis to have been the ancient cemetery of Motya, both in prehistoric and early Phoenician times, while the necropolis at Birgi (on the mainland approached by the causeway above mentioned) was used in the later period of the island's history. He has excavated in two different spots in Birgi, and has found numerous sarcophagi of the usual Phoenician type, but they all appeared to have been previously visited, though in many he discovered various objects in the shape of small vases, etc., of no great value.

The remains of the buildings on Motya, which we know from the account of Diodorus (Book XIV, c. 18) to have been both numerous and magnificent, as well as of unusual height, owing to the limited space available for the large population of the city, have as yet not been by any means thoroughly investigated, and will doubtless yield a considerable harvest to the explorer. One of them already disinterred, probably a temple, has five handsome Doric capitals and many fragments of columns. In different parts of the island human skeletons, presumably of victims of the sanguinary struggle which took place for the possession of the stronghold, have been found, also some coins and amulets, and great quantities of spear and arrowheads. Some of these Signor Lipani explained were probably discharged from the catapults, first used in ancient warfare on the occasion of this siege, as their points are blunted by impact against the walls. Diodorus also relates that this invention caused great alarm among the beleaguered Motyans on account of its novelty and its destructive effects.

TOO POOR TO WALK

(Philadelphia Record.)

"I started in to save money at the first of this year by walking in and out of town each day," said a West Philadelphian of rather limited means, "but I gave it up a few days ago and the figures show that instead of saving money by the scheme I have actually wasted $10 in the first place. I soon found it a mighty lonesome walk, so I started taking cigars along for company. At first I smoked only going in, but soon I found myself smoking an extra one or two [illegible] for the return trip. The cigars are worth 10 cents apiece so my cigar bill alone has been double what my carfare would have cost.

[illegible]

The minister of finance has introduced a bill in the Spanish Cortes [illegible] providing for a loan of [illegible]. The bill provides that this money is to be devoted to public works, such as colonization, [illegible] irrigation and the construction of canals, bridges, highways and public buildings.

MOSLEM BIGOTRY BREAKS OUT ANEW.

Adana, but it is understood a missionary organization, connected with the reformed Presbyterian Church, maintains a mission station near Adana, although not in the city.

NONE THERE PERMANENTLY.

Reformed Presbyterian Missioneries Sometimes Visit Adana.

NEW YORK, April 16.—Walter T. Miller, treasured of the board of foreign missions of the reformed Presbyterian church, said today that his church had no missionaries permanently stationed at Adana. The reformed Presbyterian missionaries stationed at Mersina and Tarsus, nearby cities, sometimes visited Adana and co-operated with the American board of missionaries in the work of the mission schools, he said Rev. C. A. Dodds and wife, Rev. Robert F. Willson and wife of Morning Sun, Ia., Dr. John Peoples of Philadelphia and Miss Elma France of Winchester, Kas., are stationed at Mersina under the control of the Reformed Presbyterian missionaries and felt assured they were all safe or he would have been cabled.

He said the Armenian School at Adana, which is conducted by the American board missionaries, was endowed by the late Elliot F. Shepard of New York.

REPORTS CREATE ALARM.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Webb and Misses Webb Missionaries in Adana.

CHICAGO, April 16.—Associated press despatches from Constantinople created alarm in Congregational Church circles today. Among the missionaries at Adana, where some of them are reported slain, are Rev. William N. Chambers and his wife, who are maintained by the First Congregational Church of Oak Park, a suburb of this city, under the auspices of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions.

Mr. Chambers is 7? years old and has been in Turkey since 1879. He visited Chicago last winter, but returned to his post with Mrs. Chambers in January. Misses Elizabeth S. Webb and Mary G. Webb, sisters, whose home is in Missouri, are also supposed to be at Adana.

FINE IMPRESSION CREATED.

Public Favor Manifesto Issued by Committee of Ulemas.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 16.—The manifesto issued yesterday by a committee of the Ulemas, has created an excellent impression on the public mind, as the movement is declared to be in no wise directed against Constitutional government.

The new minister of marine, Vice Admiral Adjiolain Pasha, has resigned, owing to the hostility shown his appointment by the navy; the president of the council of state also has surrendered his office, but on account of ill health.

The minister of police and other officers identified with the committee of union and progress have either resigned or disappeared.

TROOPS LEAVE FOR CAPITAL.

Train Carries Large Number and Others Prepare to Leave.

SALONIKI, April 16.—A battalion of troops left here, by train, for the capital last night. Another departed today and others are preparing to leave.

SHOW SIGNS OF UNREST.

Albanians, Near Saloniki, Have Clashes With Authorities.

BERLIN, April 16.—A local newspaper today publishes a despatch from Uskub, in the vilayet of Monastir, and not far from Saloniki, declaring that the Albanians of the vicinity are showing signs of unrest. Already there have been several clashes with the authorities. A band of Albanians at Petch, defeated the troops sent there to restore order, and at one of the Turkish military stations in the Albanian country, military mutineers seized their barracks and drove their officers away.

Famine prevails in Macedonia, and Old Servia. Eight thousand families are suffering, the correspondent declares, and more than 100 persons already have died of starvation.

ADMIRALTY DENIES REPORT.

No Joint Naval Demonstration Held at Constantinople.

LONDON, April 16.—The admiralty, today, gave denial to the report emanating from Vienna, of a joint naval demonstration at Constantinople. No British squadron, has been ordered to leave Malta for the Bosphorous, as had been said, nor has information reached the admiralty of the intention of France or Austria-Hungary to send ships to Turkish waters.

An official telegram received at the foreign office, today, says that all foreigners and Christians at Constantinople are being well treated and that up to the present time their safety has not been endangered.

The foreign office also denies the report of a joint naval demonstration.

IN CASE OF EMERGENCY.

War Ships Prepared to Go to Turkish Waters from Malta.

MALTA, April 16.—In the event of civil war or other serious developments threatening the safety of foreigners at Constantinople, war ships will be sent to Turkish waters from here. Battleship Ocean could sail at once and others are being prepared for eventualities. The preparations thus far are purely precautionary.

TAFT ARRIVES IN WASHINGTON.

ROBBERS ESCAPE.

Safe of Bank of Lucien Dynamited; $9,000 Taken.

ENID, Okla., April 16.—Robbers dynamited the safe of the Bank of Lucien, 39 miles east of here last night and escaped with $1,000 in currency and notes to the amount of $9,000. The interior of the building was wrecked. The robbers escaped in a stolen rig

BOARD OF TRADE TIMID.

Organization in Chicago Felt Nervous at Opening of Wheat Market.

CHICAGO, April 16.—Following yesterday's sensational market on wheat, the board of trade was nervous at the opening today. Patten was said to be a buyer. July opened ½ and ⅝ cent higher, at $1.16 to $1.16½; May unchanged to ⅛ cent lower, all at $1.27 ½ to $1.27 ⅝ and September ¼ to ½ higher at $1.04 ½ to $1.06 ⅝.

While the market was active today it lacked the sensational features of yesterday. Prices were depressed early. July touching $1.15⅝ and May $1.25⅝, but the close was strong with July the bone of contention, 1½ cents over the previous close at $1.17. May closed a half cent lower at $1.25¾.

The story that Mr. Patten has employed a body guard has no foundation. The colored man alleged to occupy this position has been at the same door receiving visitors' cards for a generation.

SUCCESSFUL CORNER IN WHEAT.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson Speaks of the Only One.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—"The only successful corner in wheat I ever heard of was one Joseph has in Biblical days," declared Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, when he was asked for an opinion as to the Patten operations on the Chicago board of trade. The secretary was about to enter the usual Friday meeting of President Taft's cabinet.

"To successfully corner the wheat market," continued the secretary, You have got to keep buying, buying and buying. Finally the time comes when you cannot buy any more and then there is a smash."

COPPER OPENS STRONG.

Great Activity Early in the Market, With a Decrease Later.

BOSTON, April 16.—There was considerable strength and activity at the opening of the local market today, North Butte rising to 69½. Later the market weakened although United States Smelting held strong at 43.

RECOVERY NATURALLY SLOW.

Yet Progress in the Business Situation Well Sustained.

NEW YORK, April 16.—Despatches to R. G. Dun & Co. indicate well sustained progress in the business situation, although recovery is naturally slow. Easter trade was generally satisfactory in all sections. Improvement is more noticeable in the commercial situation at Boston, several branches which have ruled quiet since the opening of the year reflecting increased activity and a firmer tone.

Shoe manufacturers receive a larger volume of orders and the footwear industry as a whole is in a more satisfactory condition than for several weeks. The outlook for retail trade is considered good and practically all merchants express satisfaction with the volume of Easter business.

For the current week total bank exchanges at all leading cities in the United States are $2,561,841,329. At the leading cities outside of New York clearings are 12.3 per cent larger than in the corresponding week of 1906.

FIFTY NEW LOCOMOTIVES.

Boston & Maine Road Orders $500,000 Equipment.

BOSTON, April 16.—Orders for 50 new locomotives for the Boston & Maine Railroad, at a cost of $500,000 have been issued, according to announcement made here today, while it was also stated that negotiations are pending for considerable increase in other lines of rolling stock.

A number of new stations will be built during the coming summer and the grade crossings along the lines of the road still further eliminate notably at Malden, Somerville, North Reading, Fitchburg, West Deerfield and Northfield.

PROBABLY KIDNAPPED.

Young Boy Taken from Near Grandmother's Home in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 16.—James Shepard Cabanne, 7 years old, the youngest scion of a well known St. Louis man, was kidnapped from in front of the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Julia C. Cabanne, in the most fashionable district of the city, yesterday. A telephone message from an unidentified man said that the lad had been taken to Louisville. Mrs. Cabanne, almost distracted, summoned the police last night and put the matter in their hands.

The authorities at Louisville and Memphis have been notified. Barring the possibility that he is in the hands of abductors, it is the theory of the police that kidnapping is due to domestic troubles.

NOTED CASE RECALLED.

C. J. Alvord of New York Released From Sing Sing Prison.

OSSINING, N. Y., April 16.—A celebrated defalcation case was recalled today by the release from Sing Sing prison of Cornelius J. Alvord formerly note teller of the First National Bank of New York city. Alvord was sentenced to 13 years' imprisonment January 16, 1901, for making false entries in the books of the First National Bank to cover up defalcations said to have aggregated $690,000, extending over a period of several years. Commutation for good behavior reduced the term by about five years. Alvord confessed the defalcation. When he left the prison today he told the officials he was going to Hudson, N. Y.

MEMBERS OF HOUSE OF DIET ARRESTED.

great unrest in the capital, as it is stated that some members of the upper house are liable to arrest also.

A few weeks ago charges of fraud were brought against certain of the directors of the sugar company, which is a big concern, capitalized at $12,600,000. The directors resigned and an investigation of the affairs of the company followed. A series of questionable transactions was disclosed and the stock dropped from 59 to 60 points as a result of the exposure, a large number of people, including many foreigners meeting financial ruin in the slump. The affair started an outcry from the press and the public which led to the prosecution of a number of the directors involved. These men were all high in commercial and political circles.

When the nine members of the lower house were taken into custody today, the charges against them were not made public owing to the connection of the defendant directors with politics. It is generally believed that the investigation of the sugar company resulted in the exposure of bribery in the Diet.

The members arrested all belong to the Seyu-Kai, the dominant party in both houses of the Diet. The arrests and the belief that further arrests are to follow have caused consternation in Tokio political and commercial circles.

He was innocent of the crime, but it was discovered that he was the head of the system of documents of vital importance concerning the naval defenses of Brest, France, were foun in his possession.

ARBOR DAY PROCLAMATION.

Governor Draper Designates April 21 in Massachusetts.

BOSTON, April 16.—Governor Draper in the proclamation issued today designating April 21 as Arbor Day, said:

"At no time in the history of our country has the greater value of trees been appreciated as it is now.

"In these days, when trees are being ruthlessly and recklessly destroyed for purely commercial purposes, it is necessary not only to save them, but for many reasons which were not important in earlier times, to increase their number.

"Trees are of value in every way and should be planted in large numbers, properly protected and cared for; and I urge all the people of the commonwealth, who are so situated, that they can do so either to plant a new tree, or properly care for some existing one, on Arbor Day.

POLICE NOT NOTIFIED.

IMPORTANCE OF "ATTENTION."

Paper Read by Miss Ethel Potter and Sunday School Lesson Taught by Colonel Horton.

At the weekly meeting of the Graded Union for Sunday School Teachers Thursday afternoon the devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. W. S. Sisson. After the hymn, "I am Thine, O Lord," Mrs. Sisson read a part of John III and offered prayer.

Miss Ethel Potter read a brief but helpful paper on "Attention." Fixity of gaze and the listening ear are not always signs of attention, but rather attention is characterized by fixity of thought. It is hard for older people to be attentive at all times, and harder still for children. Then, too, children, who are naturally curious, are not as curious about their relation to God and to man as about other things. Attention, however, must be gained, since the information given in the Sunday School class must tell on the formation of character in this world and the next.

Sunday School teachers of course should not make use of fear as a means of gaining attention, but there are other means by which it may be had. The teacher must study the lesson attentively and must be interested in the children themselves. The indirect method of teaching is better than the direct, as shown in the effective lesson given David by the prophet Nathan and in the lessons of the Great Teacher.

Small children should not be compelled to concentrate their minds for a long time, and in teaching them models and personal experiences should be used. The standing position of the teacher, the sudden question, pauses for quiet, a vivacious manner, continuous study, oral and written reviews and manual work are all aids to attention. Variety in method is essential and all can try, at least, to gain attention by sketching, telling stories and giving personal experiences. Attention on the part of pupils does not make a good teacher, but rather an attentive class is the result of good teaching.

The lesson was taught by Colonel J. W. Horton, as to an adult class. The lesson for last Sunday was first reviewed and then that for next Sunday—"The Conversion of Saul," Acts IX: 1-30, was read responsively and discussed in accordance with the question and answer method.

THE STORY OF "A KNIGHT FOR A DAY."

The story of "A Knight for A Day," B. C. Whitney's musical gaiety which comes to the Opera House from eleven months in Chicago, six months in New York, and three months in Boston, is of every-day people and not of the mail-coat period, as its title would seem to imply. Its first scene is laid on the grounds of a girls' school at Evanston, Ill., during Commencement day, and the second act finds all the principals in sunny Corsica, endeavoring to settle an estate which is supposed to come to the two possessors of a pair of lockets of a peculiar design. In the end, the estate is settled on the rightful owner and all are made happy. The story is told to the strains of a musical score which is the work of Raymond Hubbell, while Robert B. Smith is responsible for the book and lyrics. These are the authors who gave the lovers of musical comedy "Fantana" and "Mexicana."

A CHURCH ENTERTAINMENT.

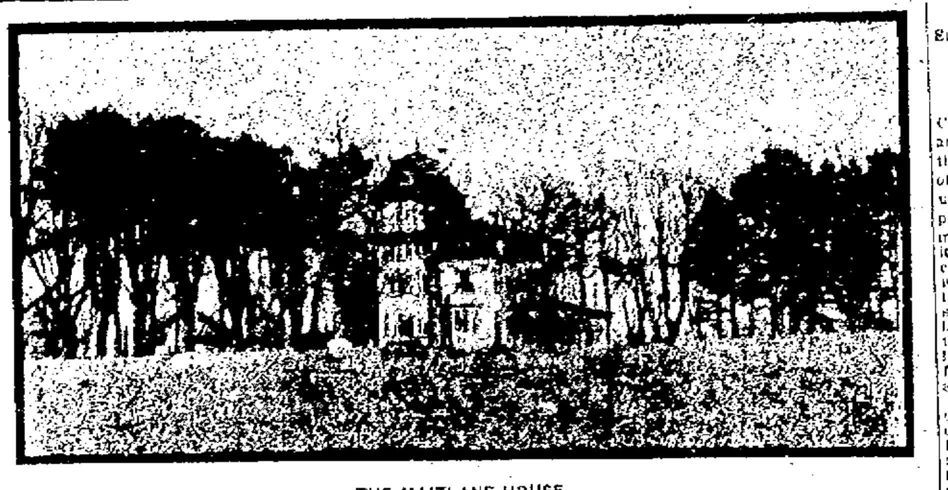

The Swedish Lutheran Church gave an entertainment Thursday evening for the benefit of the treasury, with a good attendance of members and friends of the congregation. The program opened with a selection by the choir, after which the pastor, Rev. H. Myreen, made a brief address thanking the members of the Young People's Society for their assistance in selling tickets for the entertainment. The program further included piano solos by Miss Hilma Johnson of Providence and Harold Johnson of this city, recitations by Miss Esther Johnson of Providence and Miss Viola Gustafson of this city, a cornet duet by Messrs. Harry Kalquist and Tony T. Vietry and a violin solo by Mr. Harry Kalquist. At the conclusion cake and coffee were served to all in the audience.

AMATEUR MINSTRELS.

Excellent Performance at the Artillery Armory, Presenting Many Novel Features.

The Newport Artillery gave a successful amateur minstrel performance in the armory Thursday evening, the drill hall being transformed into a comfortable theatre, with a prettily arranged stage at the west end. There was a large audience and the novelty of women ushers proved an attractive feature. The chief usher was Mrs. Robert C. Dibbs and her assistants were Misses Annabelle King, Avis Snell, Marguerite King, Anita Thayer and Julia Weaver, all of whom wore red, white and blue sashes as a designation. The program was also a feature, showing on its front page a large American flag with pictures of the old and new armory, taken by The News photographer. On the inside leaves were portraits of Colonel C. L. F. Robinson, Lieutenant Colonel Frank P. King and Ordnance Sergeant Thomas H. Lawton, the present roster of the company, and rosters of Company F, First Rhode Island volunteers and of the members of the company who enlisted in the Spanish-American war.

When the curtain was raised the stage showed a pretty forest scene, with a large circle of minstrels. Lieutenant Colonel King was the interlocutor, the end men being Newton Adams, Harry Hickok, Frank Horrocks, William O'Neill, David Watterson, George R. Taylor, James P. O'Brien and Peter Bingham. In the chorus were Ernest Darfee, W. J. H. Stewart, Charles Mallett, Ernest Darling, John Feltham, Gardner Reynolds, H. O. Johnson, Edward Lawton, Fred Wilkinson, James W. Thompson, Arthur Power, Alexander Thompson, James Dodds, Frank W. King, H. H. Luther, Norman Tallman, Frank Lutz, John Taylor, John Pearson, Frank Peabody and Karl M. Stone.

The opening chorus was "The Good Old U. S. A.," with a pretty flag effect, followed by "My Dream of the U. S. A." The solos were "You're in the Right Church" by James O'Brien, "If I Had a Thousand Lives" by T. Fred Harry, "Don't Take Me Home" by Frank Horrocks, "Wop, Wop, Wop" by Newton Adams, "Good Evening, Caroline" by George R. Taylor, "Sing Hallelujah" by Peter Bingham, "Late Hours" by Harry Hickok, "Garden of Dreams" by Karl M. Stone, "Never, No More" by William O'Neill, and a quartet by H. H. Luthers, Harry Scoville, Edward Lawton and Frank W. King. The jokes by the end men were pleasing and took "immensely" with the audience. The closing number of the first part was a tableau illustrating camp life, during which Karl M. Stone sang a solo, with the chorus by Frank Lutz, Frank W. King, John Taylor, John Pearson, Edward Lawton, Harry Scoville, H. H. Luther and Fred Harry. At the end Mr. Charles H. Clarke gave a brief historical sketch.

The olio included a tumbling act by by Physical Director Caswell and George DeM. Congdon, Paul Murphy, George Sullivan, Lowrie Chase, Robert Babcock and S. William O'Connel of the Young Men's Christian Association gymnasium; Robert Monroe, the Highland Laddies, in several of Harry Lauder's Scottish songs; Geoffrey King in selections on a variety of small musical intruments, and a comedy sketch, "Fun in a School Room," by William O'Neill, Harry Hickok, James O'Brien and Frank Horrocks.

The musical director was Alfred J. O'Connor, while music was furnished by Alonzo A. Knowe's orchestra during the minstrels and afterwards for dancing.

SPERO—RADICE.

Miss Mary A. Radice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vito Radice, was married Thursday to Mr. Caesar Spero, the ceremony taking place in St. Mary's Church and Rev. William B. Meenan officiating. The bride, who was attended by her sister, Miss Filomena Radice, wore a Princess gown and carried a bouquet of Bride roses. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Marcus Spero. The ceremony at the church was witnessed by only relatives and intimate friends, but later in the afternoon a large number of friends attended a reception given in Music hall. Mr. and Mrs. Spero left on the Fall River Line boat for their wedding trip, after which they will return here to reside at 16 Dennison street.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS' SOCIAL.

Rear Admiral Charles M. Thomas Camp, No. 3, United Spanish War Veterans, observed the annual muster and rally day of the order Thursday evening. After the regular meeting, at which two new recruits were mustered in, the doors were opened and a number of guests entered, including members of the Grand Army and the Relief Corps and of the families of the Spanish War veterans. Remarks were made during the evening on the subject of veteran organizations by members of both the Grand Army and the Spanish Veterans. An orchestra was in attendance and refreshments were served. The occasion was informal but all were required to be sociable.

WIDENING STRUCK A SNAG.

Thames Street Project Also Involves Commercial Wharf.

Matter Laid Over a Week to Allow Investigation by the City Solicitor.

The Board of Aldermen held its weekly meeting Thursday evening, when considerable business was transacted and the matter of widening Thames street ran against a snag, though not of the aldermen's making. Mayor Boyle presided and all the members were present.

The regular pay rolls were approved, as follows: Streets and highways, $1,459.56; police, $735.67; fire department, $135.77; city officers, $179.25; public buildings, $11.54; firemen in theatres, $36.

Petitions from the Old Colony Street Railroad Company, Illuminating department, asking for permission to place poles in Bay View avenue and Champlin street, were referred to the next meeting, with notice to the residents of those streets to appear, if they see fit, to approve or disapprove the proposed placing of the poles.

A communication was received from the School Committee, and in accordance therewith a resolution was passed directing the city treasurer to draw $150 from the Townsend fund and turn it over to the School Committee, for the purchase of machinery for the Townsend School.

Renewals of peddlers licenses were granted as follows: Martin Kenney, Ernest Weston, William Waters, Moses David, Max Adelson.

McMullen & Holmes were granted an eating house license.

David Grinberg applied for a junk dealer's and collector's license. He had recently been excluded for non-compliance with the law and had applied to the mayor for relief, and the mayor had told him he could apply to the board for a license, and perhaps the board would act favorably. Mr. Mahoney said, in view of the fact that Grinberg had lived here ten years, has a large family and would feel that the extra payment of $25 meant considerable, he favored giving him a license, and it was granted.

A petition was received from 56 or so citizens, asking the board to condemn a strip eight feet wide of the Derby estate, now occupied by the Herald and Postal Telegraph Company in order to widen Thames street at this point. A number of reasons for the widening were given. If this was done it was estimated that the Newport Coal Company, whose predecessors owned the Langley Wharf property, would throw in land to continue the widening.

When the petition had been read Mr. Cottrell suggested that the premise of the Newport Coal Company was too vague for any action to be taken on it. Mayor Boyle said a commission could be appointed, and that could learn definitely. Mr. Kelly suggested that a committee of the board be appointed to look into the subject. Mayor Boyle said the board could do nothing other than to condemn under the report of a commission, and it would be saving time to refer the matter to a commission, whose report could be approved or rejected when it came in. The city solicitor was called in to prepare the necessary resolutions, and while some were looking up the owners of the adjacent property the committee on the tuberculosis home went to the mayor's office and approved bills for the home.

Twenty-one milk licenses were granted.

The mayor announced the appointment of Frank F. Harris as a special policeman.

Aldermen Cottrell and Shepley were appointed a committee to act with the chief engineer of the fire department in connection with the placing of the bell or whistle in the Second ward. Before the meeting there had been a critical examination of the resolution passed by the Council and it developed that if a bell were placed it should go on the tower to be erected on the Asylum grounds, but if a whistle were decided upon it might be placed anywhere in the district.

Mr. Mahoney said Mr. Burdick had told him that the Newport Hospital might waive for this year its request for an additional clause, limiting its work in the care of the sick poor in case of epidemics. The city solicitor said he understood the trustees had decided to wait for the meeting of the Council.

Mr. Shepley said something should be done about hiring playgrounds. He presumed the children are already playing on the grounds, though the city has not hired them. Mayor Boyle said he did not see how the board could hire any playgrounds on the appropriation given.

This started things and the mayor said the Council should be called together at the earliest day possible. The city clerk said the Council had adjourned to the call of the chairman, and the latter could call it together. It was voted to ask Chairman Burlingame to call the Council to meet Monday, April 26. The city clerk will prepare all material in his hands for presentation. The cost of repairs to the City Hall will come up. The board is expected to carry out its $5,000 program of repairs on a $2,500 basis, and does not see how it can be done.

Mr. Shepley suggested that the topmasts of the flagpoles should be put up, and he was appointed a committee to see that this is done.

Mr. Shepley reported, recommending that two incandescent burners on Brooks avenue and one on Gould street replace ordinary gas lights, and it was so voted. He reported that he had not yet seen the chief engineer of the fire department in regard to placing the arc light on Newport avenue.

Mr. Mahoney reported that the new gas lights on Greenough place and Hunter avenue are going in; the one called for in Old Beach road he found already in position, halfway between Red Cross avenue and Rhode Island avenue. This was apparently not where some wished, opposite the court-way, though it lights the courtway.

There was nothing else to do, and the city solicitor was still writing out the resolution in regard to the widening of Thames street, when some one suggested that nothing was said about condemning a part of Commercial wharf. Some one else said this is a public highway, but others had vivid recollections of the sawing of signs and similar manifestations of private ownership of Commercial wharf, and it was known that the owner of Commercial wharf paid for fixing the roadway and the maintenance of the plank walk.

Finally the city solicitor was asked if the board should not take action in regard to Commercial wharf also, but he was not prepared to answer. The city clerk said he had spent about two years or less, looking into the matter of title to that wharf at one time. It was finally decided, just as the city solicitor was finishing that resolution, that the matter of Commercial wharf was of enough importance to be looked into, and to postpone action for a week, to give the city solicitor time to look into this matter and allow the petitioners to amend their petition if they so decide.

Then the board adjourned.

RELEASED ON BAIL.

Harrington Pleads Not Guilty to Charge of Incendiarism, and to Leave the Country.

In the district court this morning Daniel Harrington pleaded not guilty to the charge of setting fire to a car of kindling wood in the freight yard on the night of Sunday, March 28. He was released on bail until December 1, on his own recognizance, the understanding being that after a visit to his brother in the West he will go home to Ireland and remain there. It is believed that, away from here and under the care of friends, he will not be a menace to the place, as he would be here, if he were guilty.

Louis Smith, alias Epstein, of the Standard Tea Company, was discharged, the case against him being discontinued.

Two Tiverton cases were heard. Joe Duffy pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny and was sentenced to the Providence County jail for 90 days. Joe Brooks was tried on a charge of cruelty to animals. He and his boy tried to plow a lot full of stones, using an old horse unfit for the work, and whipped the horse. This he repeated on another occasion, so that Miss Coggeshall, who had seen the performance, made complaint, and she and Mrs. Judd were the witnesses for the state. Defendant claimed that no unnecessary whipping was done, and when the horse was found to be unfit for the work it was put in the barn and a pair of horses used to plow the quarry. The court found him guilty and fined him $10 and costs, which will amount in all to about $35.

MAY COME TO WAR COLLEGE.

Admiral Swinburne Soon to Retire and Likely to Have No Other Active Duty.

Rear Admiral William T. Swinburne, who has been in command of the Pacific fleet several months and has now been placed on waiting orders, will turn over the command of the fleet to Rear Admiral Uriel Sebree when the vessels reach San Francisco. They are now making their way up the Pacific coast from South and Central American cities and will reach San Francisco in a short time.

While Admiral Swinburne has been in command the Pacific fleet has been more at sea than any other stationed in Pacific waters. The idea with the Pacific as well as with the Atlantic fleet has been to keep the ships working in fleet formation as much as possible.

Admiral Swinburne will retire August 24, and it is probable that he will be given no active duty, although he may be sent to the Naval War College to give the officers there the benefit of his experience with the fleet in the Pacific.

The fleet consists of armored cruisers West Virginia, Colorado, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, California, South Dakota and Washington, which comprise the first two divisions; protected cruisers Milwaukee, St. Louis, Charleston, Cleveland, Denver, Galveston and Chattanooga; gunboats Wilmington, Helena, Villalobos, Callao, Samar, Arayat and Pampanga; torpedo boat destroyers Chauncey, Bainbridge, Barry and Dale, and a number of fleet auxiliaries on the western coast of the United States and around Manila.

Rear Admiral Edward B. Barry who is to succeed Rear Admiral Sebree in command of the second division, is well known in Newport, having been located at the Naval War College and commanded the Vicksburg, going from here to the Pacific in that vessel.

READY TO PAY THE BOND.

Surety Company Notifies Co-Operative Association That It Will Make Good Its Loss.

The annual meeting of the Newport Co-Operative Association for Saving and Building comes this evening, when the annual reports will be made and officers will be elected. There will naturally be inquiry regarding the disappearance of the former secretary, Hermannus Klausens. In this connection it seems timely to say that the American Bonding Company of Baltimore, which gave bonds for the secretary in the sum of $3,000, has notified the Association that it is ready to pay the bond. This with other security held by the Association, will cover the entire loss sustained by the departure of the former secretary with the proceeds of a check.

The by-laws of the Association require the board of management, whenever there are, at the end of five years from the date of issue, more than 100 shares, unpledged, in any series, to retire one quarter of the shares in excess of 100, so that not more than 100 unpledged shares shall remain in any series at the time of maturity. The full value of such shares is paid to the holders, so that they lose nothing. This is a conservative course for the Association.

In accordance with this proviso the board of management retired Thursday evening, 114 shares of stocks in five different series which came under this rule. This involved a total payment to the members of $11,610.72. The drawing is by lot, and the number drawn is only a small portion of the whole number. It is no hardship for a member to be retired, except that he must pay an entry fee if he takes shares in the new series, and there is always danger of loss or needless spending of money coming unexpectedly. Thursday evening the holder of book No. 1313 was not only drawn to have his shares in one series retired, but the shares in two series, amounting to 20 together, and all he had in the Association were taken from the hat in two drawings. If this member enters the new series he will probably ask for a book without the fatal 13.

COINS FOR NEW SHIPS.

[Pearson's Weekly.]

Custom decrees that a gold coin, or at the very least silver, shall be put under the mainmast of each new ship launched. The coin bears the date of the year when the vessel is completed, a fact well known to collectors, who keep an eye on ships that are likely to be the depository of numismatic prizes. Thus at Liverpool some years back a derelict Yankee schooner, bought for a song, yielded an 1804 dollar, the rarest and most eagerly sought after of all American coins. It sold readily for £1,500 ($6,000), and would be worth today at least double that sum, for it was in perfect preservation, having rested in its cotton wool wad beneath the hollow "stepping" of the mast since the day it was first placed in position.

Its recovery was the result of foresight and business enterprise, combined, of course, with special knowledge. A man passing the worthless hulk on the day of the sale noticed the date, 1804, on her stern, and rightly guessed that she might likely be the bearer of a dollar of that year. In the same way have been preserved and recovered many of the ancient Scottish pennies known as doits, which were so tiny that 12 of them were barely equal in value to the penny sterling. The old Scottish shipbuilders of the days when these coins were in circulation used, with characteristic national thriftiness, to put one of them beneath each mast they "stepped," in preference to the more valuable groat. Owing to their small size, however, combined with their well-nigh infinitesimal value regarded simply as money, most doits that were in circulation were speedily lost, leaving those that had been placed beneath the masts to become from the collector's point of view of extreme value.

THE ENGLISH DISHES OF HUMOR.

[Black and White.]

It is sometimes a matter for wonder that humorists are allowed to live in this country. Deep down in our English character is a conscious dislike of laughter. Laughter is an expression of emotion, and we have a horror of it. It may be that this secret objection to the comic muse is a surviving relic of the sturdy old Puritanism which has done so much for the race in many directions and handicapped it in others. When Disraeli began to be prominent in the House of Commons it used to be said of him that, though he was a very amusing fellow and made the House laugh, he could never hope to take rank as a statesman. Lord Randolph Churchill went through exactly the same experience in his early days. Few people would admit that a man who expressed himself humorously had any claim to be taken seriously.
